TEETH SHOWN*Comptroller McCarl Standing
Pat on Pay Hold-up*Army and Navy Officers Pull on Wires in Vain*Money Watchdog Adamant on Unfair Allowances*BY GRAPTON WILCOX
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

WASHINGTON, May 29.—A conflict between Comptroller-General McCarl and the executive departments of the government grew acute today when it became known that Mr. McCarl had refused to readjust or to modify a ruling under which the pay of thousands of Army, Navy and Marine Corps officers had been held up until they refund certain allowances which they have drawn for dependents.

The controversy has been raging for several months but the Comptroller-General said the last word on the subject today. Informing Secretary of War Weeks that his ruling must stand until the provisions of the Budget Law which created his office.

As the Department of Justice has already held that the decisions of the Comptroller-General are final under the existing law, the only course open to Secretary Weeks and Secretary of the Navy Denby, unless they want to abandon the contest, is to carry the case to Congress next December and seek an amendment to the law.

REPEAL SEEMS DOUBTFUL
Inasmuch as it was the purpose of Congress in creating the office of Comptroller-General to set up an agency independent of the executive departments, there is doubt whether it will be willing to amend the law. Furthermore Mr. McCarl's term of office still has about thirty years to run and he is showing no disposition to retire.

The whole dispute revolves around Mr. McCarl's construction of the law enacted by Congress adjusting the pay and allowances of officers in the Army and Navy and Marine Corps. For years under the old law and under the new one enacted only last summer, it has been the practice of the War and Navy Departments to pay allowances to officers for dependent parents. The only evidence officers were required to present under the old ruling of the Treasury Department was a certificate declaring the dependency. Officers had been drawing this allowance in monthly installments without question either by the Army and Navy departments or by the treasury officials.

Mr. McCarl ordered the practice changed. It was reported that some officers drew the allowance when they were not entitled to it.

COMPTROLLER'S NOTICE
The Comptroller gave notice that he interpreted the law to mean that allowance to dependent parents should be paid only when it could be shown that they were dependent, and he ordered the allowance to cease except where satisfactory proof was furnished that they were justified. He made the ruling apply to all back cases and

HARDING FOR

We captives are the victims of a corrupt government which has oppressed its own people to the point of desperation. Had the government been honest and just, the Chinese people administered the offices as they should, caring for the welfare of the people, instead of amassing huge personal fortunes—fortunes gained by the maintenance of large personal armies and through the bartering of rich Chinese officials there would not have been any bandits today in Shanghai or other cities where they are now rampant.

The military and civil governors, presidents and cabinet ministers who have plundered the national and provincial treasuries are far more guilty than those holding us foreigners as hostages.

There has been an utter breakdown of the machinery of government, an utter collapse of official authority owing to the incompetence and corruption in both high and low official circles.

I have suffered and am suffering in the hands of the bandits yet I and my comrades cannot place the blame of our imprisonment on the half-starved brigands who have been driven into a life of highway robbery by inhuman oppression of those who administer the government of China.

ALL FOREIGNERS IN DANGER
There are only fourteen of us Americans, French, British, Italians and Mexicans held here but there are some 30,000 Europeans and Americans in China and so long as this corrupt system of government is allowed to exist, the lives of the other 30,000 will be in jeopardy and many of them may know suffering even greater than ours unless there be fundamental solution for China's troubles. Such a solution must involve the immediate dismantling of the armed forces of China and the cessation of international assistance in the reorganizing of China's national finances.

Our hearts go out to the Chinese people who have suffered far greater than we have and it is our desire that any international action in the settlement of the Chinese problem be permeated with a true spirit of Americanism. We captives do not advocate mere punishment for a few officials but the elimination of the system of government under which we and the Chinese people live today.

CRITICISM MODIFIED
(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
BERLIN, May 29.—With the publication of the official text of the industrialists' guarantee proposals to the government, criticism of their program has become considerably modified, and a large section of the press is inclined to view the league's platform as material contributing to the reparations solution sought by Chancellor Brüning.

While the editorial comments assume that the present draft does not represent the extent to which the industrialists and the financial, shipping and agrarian interests finally will be pressed into active service by the government, there is a marked concurrence of the part of the bourgeoisie journals that the "prerequisistes" designated in the industrialists' statement as a condition of their participation in the gold guarantees, are wholly warranted in the light of the past conduct of the reparations problem by Germany and the Entente.

Many fires, it was stated, have been reported "outside the forest." Conditions were said to be "dry and extremely hazardous."

SHIPPING BIDS DISAPPOINTING*Only Four Are Being Studied by Federal Board*Acceptance of Any is Now Regarded Unlikely*Only Other Recourse is to Apply Marine Act*(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

WASHINGTON, May 29.—Direct government operation of the merchant ships of the United States Shipping Board will be the solution of the merchant marine problem. Of the twenty or more bids received for ships and routes only four are being seriously considered and they are neither technically complete or perfect tenders to the government.

Two of these bids are about to be discarded and only two show any sign of real merit to justify consideration by the full board. One of the two remaining bids is for the South American line in the Atlantic and the other is for the trans-Pacific service to the Orient out of Seattle.

Whether either of these bids is finally perfected remains to be seen. Commissioners Lamer of Los Angeles and O'Connor of New York, who are in charge of the Smell of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, are to get all the facts in the four bids and commend their disposition to the full board.

LASKER URGES SPEED
Chairman Lasker wants to finally dispose of the bids before he completes his term of office on June 13 and will urge the greatest haste possible.

Those in the confidence of the chairman of the Shipping Board regard the acceptance of any of the bids as unlikely and the officials of the Shipping Board are preparing for the government cancelling all the managing operators' contracts and directing operation of all shipping board routes on the Pacific, Atlantic and Gulf ports. There never was much opposition to the plan for selling the present fleet of ships and what enthusiasm about a private operation of these ships on established routes had practically disappeared today at the board headquarters.

BIDS COMPLICATED
There are too many complications in most of the bids to make them likely to be accepted. Enforcement and little credence is given to the reports of a $1,000,000 bid by John W. Black of Silver Creek, N. Y., for a large block of vessels. The best information available tonight is that the Shipping Board people have been invited to purchase for all routes together with all the floating equipment and now have no time to prepare for the work under the provisions of the Merchant Marine Act.

Such operation if undertaken by the government would be a sell to private bidders on a basis which will insure the maintenance of the routes and protect the interest of the government in the world. No one here will predict how long this will take but there is a unanimity of opinion that the government fleet will go under private operation.

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE.)
NEW ORLEANS, May 29.—Request for a refund on an unused half fare ticket issued thirty-one years ago for passage between Eastview and Big Clifty, Ky., on the Newport News and Mississippi Valley Railroad, was received here today at the office of W. H. Brill, general passenger agent of the Illinois Central Railroad. The value of the ticket was issued was approximately 10 cents.

The claim came from Mrs. Nellie Terry Rogers of Henderson, Ky., to whose husband's estate the ticket was dated May 31, 1892. P. H. Fowler, division passenger agent of the Illinois Central at Louisville, in transmitting the ticket and claim to Mr. Brill, recommended the claim be turned down "as the child was so small she probably was overlooked by the conductor."

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
SACRAMENTO, May 29.—Almost half a million dollars in delinquent wages was collected for employees from employers by the State Labor Department during the current biennium, according to the report of Walter G. Matthews, State Labor Commissioner, filed with Gov. Richardson today.

Workers filed 22,713 wage claims of which 10,533, to an amount of $450,164, were collected. In legal fees the department saved $45,000 during the biennium, the report says.

During the school year of 1921-22, Matthews reports, 2,995 working permits were issued to children under 16 years old. These figures, the report says, show a decided increase in child labor, as 11,231 children were classified as workers in 1910.

Eight hundred and seventy violations of the child labor laws were reported, the chief offenders being restaurants, it was stated.

ARMY DEFENSE PLAN PERFECT*(Continued from First Page)*READY TO RECRUIT*Work also has been done on mobilization plans whereby desig-*nation of the United States Army will be completed in a matter of days.

Applying the lessons learned in the World War, the general staff has provided an elaborate mobilization plan. After mobilization of the regulars, National Guard and trained reserves which would be conducted in each corps area to bring them into the field as quickly as possible, the passage by Congress of the necessary conscription act.

The rules and regulations drawn by Gen. Crowder and his staff for the draft law in the recent war have been perfected and the experience of the World War is being put into a bill ready for enactment by Congress.

Work also has been done on mobilization plans whereby designated units of the Army will be immediately started recruiting when war is declared; each man will know of his military status and his community. Furthermore, it is proposed that the draft boards in each locality will be organized and instructed to select men for military service.

In the World War this work had to be done after the war had broken out. The mobilization centers, which selected training and in many instances broke up entire communities, have been instructed with the details of selecting training fields in their areas. All prominent quarters and main highways would be the first to be employed.

Contentment, so far as possible, cantonments will be built in proximity to large cities where immediate connection can be had with public transportation. The maintenance of large camps, provision has been made for utilization of portable, knocked down type barracks, such as are now used commercially, the production of which is assured and supplies always available.

The Army will be maintained at such proportions as to provide the immediate equipment of the emergency force first called to the colors, and steps also have been taken to assure the prompt and adequate supply of additional supplies.

Finally, premised on the assumption that the United States will be called upon to fight only a defensive war and that sudden, complete plans for the defense of the country and its possessions have been prepared in such a manner that Gen. Pershing could take the field today in any part of the world with no detail left unaccounted for and with his plan of campaign for any given point carefully prepared in advance.

The amount of hard labor which preparation of these plans has required, the paper work resulting and the hours of conference necessary to produce co-ordination of every branch of the service, have been beyond description.

Every branch of the War Department and, in the case of joint action by the Army and Navy, every branch of the Navy Department, has been consulted in the preparation of the plans. The written proposals of each have been prepared and incorporated in the dossier and nothing has been left to guesswork.

In 1917 all this had to be done after the war had broken out. Much of it had to be done after the forces were concentrated and some of it was not done before the war broke out.

The spirit with which the War and Navy Departments have done this tremendous job under leadership of Secretary Weeks, Gen. Pershing, Secretary Denby and the Naval Board has been extraordinary. There has been no quarreling or bickering among the departments or their members. There is every evidence of endeavor which appears necessary in operation and concentration along the line.

PLAN CHANGES YEARLY
Furthermore, the dependence of both services on the civilian population both for moral and material support has been uppermost in the mind of the government and there is a manifest readiness everywhere to take the country into the confidence of the government and to establish and maintain the cordial relationship not only between the regular services and the people, but between the National Guard and the reserve officers and men, many of whom have served and are now serving with the General Staff in perfecting these plans.

With the present plans as a basis, it is the purpose of the General Staff to keep preparations at the highest point at all times. The staff officers who prepared the plans will continue to assemble the information which affects them and, once a year, at least, will submit suggestions for changes which appear necessary in the light of developments.

Furthermore, agencies have been created among their own number to see to it that this job is kept up-to-date; that personnel and equipment are maintained, that sufficient reserves are on hand and surplus disposed of in the interest of economy, and that the framework for an expanded Army in time of emergency is just as complete and as strong as it is possible to make it.

MEXICO CITY, March 29.—Charles B. Warren, at tomorrow's meeting of the mixed United States-Mexican commission, which is investigating questions in dispute between the two countries, will present the attitude of the United States under international law with regard to the expropriation of the great Mexican estates and their division among small agriculturists.

Mr. Warren's exposition of the United States government's view relative to just methods of paying owners whose lands are expropriated is expected to consume only a short time. He will be followed by one of the Mexican commissioners, who will go at some length into the Mexican government's ideas concerning the splitting up of large estates under the existing agrarian laws.

The chief point involved concerns the Mexican proposal to indemnify land owners. Tonight the United States Commissioners were studying with interest a decree of President Obregon published today modifying the agrarian law by expropriating certain lands from expropriation.

This morning's meeting of the mixed commission saw the conclusion of the Mexican commissioner's argument relative to expropriation under article 27 of the Mexican constitution. This statement had occupied the attention of the commission since the inaugural session, May 14, except for two sessions which were devoted by Mr. Warren to outlining the attitude of the United States.

A four-hour meeting last night between the United States commissioners and President Obregon at the home of a personal friend of the President has caused considerable interest because the meeting took place virtually at the conclusion of the discussion of the commissioners of the subject problem, which involves American petroleum rights acquired before the present constitution became effective.

Prior to tomorrow's session of the commission, the Americans will attend a Memorial Day celebration in the American cemetery.

CHICAGO MAY SEIZE CARS

Elevated and Surface Lines to be Operated by City in Event of Strike; Mayor Meets With Unions

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
CHICAGO, May 29.—Mayor Dever and Corporation Counsel Busch today were preparing for the legal seizure and operation of the surface and elevated lines in the event of a strike and traction tie-up.

The Mayor and the corporation counsel have held conferences during the past few days for the express purpose, it was said, of utilizing the powers of the city legally to operate the lines if the traction companies fail to do so.

The procedure has been determined upon and the corporation counsel's office is ready immediately to institute proceedings against the lines.

It is felt, however, that the city's decision will be used rather as a club to force a break of the deadlock, if need arises, than as a move actually to seize and operate the lines.

reporters at police headquarters. Mrs. Phillips did not make the journey from the pier to headquarters in a police patrol. Instead, she was taken to the police station in a private car.

The prisoner talked freely with reporters, but was careful not to say anything that might tend to hamper her fight for freedom. At the time of her escape she was in jail pending the outcome of an appeal after she had received a sentence of ten years to life imprisonment.

Mrs. Meadows was beaten to death with a hammer and Mrs. Phillips was convicted, largely on the evidence of Miss Peggy Caffee.

ASSERTS INNOCENCE
In stating that she was returning home voluntarily to fight for her name, honor and freedom in the right way, Mrs. Phillips was emphatic in asserting her innocence and equally emphatic in her statement that Peggy Caffee was the slayer of Mrs. Meadows.

She said that she had told all her story at her trial and that she would have been acquitted. She maintained silence on the advice of her attorney, however, she said, and as a result only one man was convicted.

The new evidence, she said, was obtained during one of her visits to her home in Los Angeles after her escape from prison. She donated a pair of shell-rimmed spectacles, she said, and went upon the streets on numerous occasions while police were searching for her from Canada to Mexico.

She learned that she would await a conference with her attorney in Los Angeles. Mrs. Phillips would say little concerning the details of her escape, but in reply to a query as to whether she was in communication with her husband during her period of freedom, said: "Not at all."

NEW ORLEANS REFUGEE
She went to St. Louis from Los Angeles then came to New Orleans and remained there nine days before taking passage for Vera Cruz, Mex. During her stay in New Orleans she occupied an apartment in the home of Anthony J. Hackelmuller, a prominent real estate dealer, but she said, she did not know his identity.

She posed as Mrs. Jesse Carson and admitted that Carson, who she said, saved the bars of the window of her prison cell, was here at the same time. Mrs. Phillips said she went about freely in New Orleans without fear of detection, but when asked for the names of those who helped her, she refused to answer.

KEYS WAS FIRM IN HIS BELIEF that a new trial will not be granted the slayer of Mrs. Meadows, because, he declared, she was granted a fair and impartial trial and convicted and there are no errors in the record of that trial, and also because, by her escape, she forfeited her right to a new trial.

KEYS expected to have everything settled by the time Mrs. Phillips arrives here and asserts he intends to lose no time in asking for a dismissal of her appeal, thereby setting aside the stay of execution. Her immediate commitment to San Quentin will then ensue.

KEYS branded as "bunk" these statements of Mrs. Phillips that she can clear herself. It was learned yesterday that Mrs. Phillips and Jesse C. Carson, with whom she fled to Honduras and who is now confined in a Honduras prison, arrived in New Orleans on January 8, five weeks after her escape from the County Jail here. They spent the first night at a hotel and the next day took quarters at the home of Mrs. and Mrs. Anthony J. Hackelmuller, a New Orleans real estate operator, who had no knowledge of her identity.

STOPPED IN NEW ORLEANS
Carson and Mrs. Phillips remained there until January 19, on which day they boarded the ship and sailed to Vera Cruz. The pair arrived in New Orleans from St. Louis where they went following their departure from Los Angeles. Mrs. Phillips was a favorite among the city's theatricals. Several times she accompanied Carson on shopping expeditions.

Chief Deputy District Attorney Keys was asked today what action he intended taking with respect to Mrs. Etta Mae Weaver, the hammer murderer's sister, who was captured with her in Honduras. He replied that if he could prove that Mrs. Weaver had a hand in Mrs. Phillips' escape from the County Jail he would most assuredly prosecute her. As yet, he asserted, there was no evidence implicating her.

A huge crowd, it is expected, will meet the train when it arrives Friday evening. Sheriff Traeger is formulating plans to prevent any attempted rescue of the slayer, for it is reported that several well-known "rings" will go to almost any lengths to free her.

That several world-famous stories and the services of writers of wide repute had been obtained by Paramount was announced yesterday by Jesse L. Lasky, first vice-president in charge of production for the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation.

Vicente Ibanez Ibanez has just completed his first original photo-play, "Argentine Love," after months devoted to the study of the screen drama. It was announced yesterday, Argentine, which was the scene of the early sequence, "The Four Horsemen," is also the background for Ibanez's new Paramount picture.

Among these is "West of the Water Tower," a novel by an anonymous author and a story which reviewers have heralded as striking at the very heart of American life.

"I consider the story one of the most vital publications of the past several years," stated Mr. Lasky. "It is a strong story because it points a moral."

Mr. Lasky had asked Will H. Hays to confer with men and women of public affairs through a committee of public relations, to how the story should be treated in its presentation as a photo drama. The novel tells of a dramatic incident in the life of a small American town. The fact that Mr. Hays has been notified of the coming production of this picture has awakened wide interest and it is expected that actual filming of this screen drama will start almost immediately.

Mr. Lasky also announced that "Big Brother," by Rex Beach, one of the biggest pictures of the year, will be started at the Long Island studio soon. It will be directed by Allan Dwan as soon as he has completed "Zaza," starring Gloria Swanson.

Other announcements were that Julian Street's distinguished man of letters, will be employed by Paramount in adapting for the screen his novel, "Rita Coventry," a William De Mille production, which will be produced following the completion of "Spring Magic," Mr. De Mille's present picture.

Cecil B. De Mille is planning to follow his current production, a film version of "The Ten Commandments," with "Triumph," by Max Edington, which appeared recently as a novel in the Saturday Evening Post.

Short-Circuited Wire Burns Leg of Screen Actor

As a result of too much realism, Frank Mayo was severely burned on the leg yesterday at the Goldwyn Studios.

The accident occurred during the filming of "Six Days," the Elmer Glyn story, in which Mayo plays the leading role. The scene was laid in a dugout on the French battlefield and to light the way Mayo carried a lighted candle. In reality this was an electric torch with wires charged with 120 volts of electricity, passing under his clothing and down his arm to his hand. The wires came off, circled and before Mayo could give an alarm, or the electricians could turn off the current, his clothing was in flames.

Film Productions

Victor B. Fisher, supervising director of Fisher Productions, returned to Los Angeles last night after a week's visit to San Francisco where the home office of the company is located, with plans for producing in Los Angeles on a large scale.

Immediately upon his return contracts were signed by Mr. Fisher for larger space at the Hollywood Studios on Santa Monica Boulevard, which will house the enlarged producing facilities of the organization following the completion of "Youth Triumphs," the initial Fisher offering.

To handle the new producing schedule Mr. Fisher has appointed David Chapman, San Francisco oil man, to the post of assistant supervising director. Mr. Chapman will be Mr. Fisher's right-hand man in future productions and returned to Los Angeles with him.

As soon as "Youth Triumphs" is finally cut and titled, Mr. Fisher will leave for New York to arrange for its distribution and to obtain motion-picture rights on a number of Broadway plays and several popular novel negotiations for which are already under way. Mr. Fisher plans to leave Los Angeles for the East in ten days.

The new producing schedule also involves the signing of a number of prominent players on long-term contracts to appear in future Fisher productions. Among these players will be two stars with whom contracts will be closed within the next few days.

Lillian Ducey, director, and James Dent, production manager, will continue in their respective capacities.

Reward for His Bravery

As a token of appreciation to David Antink the board of directors of the Sun Drug Company presented him with a reward of $1000 for his courageous action in defending the property of the company entrusted in his care against bandits who recently held him up on the public streets of this city.

The Sun Drug Company believes that such exhibition of mettle goes far toward teaching those indulging in such outlaws that law and order must be respected and no doubt has a concrete influence on others contemplating similar crime.

As a result of the occurrence the board of directors offered their sincere thanks and commendation for the fearless and manly spirit displayed by their cashier.

FOR POWER BONDS

Congressman Phil Swing will speak tomorrow noon at a meeting to be held in the interests of the proposed $15,000,000 power project under the auspices of the Power Users' Association. The proponents of the power bond yesterday made public endorsements of the issue bearing the signatures of nineteen prominent Los Angeles women.

Actress Obtains Husband and Riches

VENTNOR CITY (N. Y.) May 29.—Katherine MacDonald, considered one of the screen's most beautiful women, has acquired a new name and a new fortune. She is now Mrs. Charles Echeon Johnson. Her husband, who is shown with his bride in the picture, is a millionaire manufacturer of Philadelphia. The couple were photographed just after the wedding ceremony, as they were starting on a long honeymoon trip. Mrs. Johnson has not yet announced whether she will continue to make pictures. For some time she has been at work in her studio on the Atlantic Coast.

Original Locations to be Used in Screening Tale of
"The Virginian"

Owen Wister's own conception of his immortal romance, "The Virginian," is about to be reduced to celluloid for the first time.

Plans for the production of the play, about to be filmed by Fox Film Corp., are being handled by a team of players selected with a view to the obtaining of the most picturesque and scenic spots in the West.

Moreover, the picture will be shot on the exact spots in Wyoming that are named in the story. In the few cases where exceptions have been made, settings will be constructed at the R. P. Schulberg Studios only after the most painstaking research work.

In the case of players the greatest surprise will be found in the age of the Virginian himself. Whereas the popular conception of the hero is that of a man of 45—feathered for the role of the Virginian, Kenneth Harlan, tall, athletic and 28, enough like the Western hero to have posed for the pen portrait contained in the book, has been selected to play the part in the Schulberg picture. Incidentally, he has played that role on the speaking stage with four different stock companies.

Florence Vidor will bring her winsome personality to the role of Molly Wood, the school teacher. Whereas the popular conception of the hero is that of a man of 45—feathered for the role of the Virginian, Kenneth Harlan, tall, athletic and 28, enough like the Western hero to have posed for the pen portrait contained in the book, has been selected to play the part in the Schulberg picture. Incidentally, he has played that role on the speaking stage with four different stock companies.

Russell Simpson, six-foot veteran bad man of stage and screen, will be seen as Trampas. Pat O'Malley has signed for the role of the intimate friend of the Virginian.

Raymond Hutton, selected for the part of Shorty, is rushing through his work in "The Hunchback of Notre Dame" in order to be ready for the opening scenes of the picture, which probably will be shot on a Wind River location within ten days. Edward Brady, who played a similar role in Tom Forman's recently completed picture, "The Broken Wing."

The new scenario for the production is being written without a glimpse of the script from which the original picture was made. William Young, who was selected and given a long-term contract as a Schulberg writer to insure his services on this picture.

Sixty-five members of the police band will accompany Chief Oaks today on the Southern Pacific. They will stop en route to convention and on returning to play in a score of cities. Los Angeles' Police Band has gained a reputation for its performance and the largest eastern cities have engaged them. Chicago, New York, Pittsburgh, Baltimore, Washington, D. C., and an entire list of cities, including Salt Lake City, Sacramento and San Francisco will hear the Los Angeles band.

Armed with invitations and souvenirs from Los Angeles, the local delegation will endeavor to bring the 1934 convention to this city.

Mitchell Dam, Alabama, will be 1200 feet long and 70 feet high, when completed next February.

The Pacific Ocean was cast as the villain in an incident with all the thrills of a screen situation at Laguna Beach late yesterday afternoon.

A wave at high tide which exceeded in size anything remembered by the oldest inhabitants descended upon Fred Niblo's company, filming "Captain Applejack," and carried away one "maniac," erected on the seashore.

The visitor from the sea also hurried into the foaming surf Miss Bennett, leading woman of the picture. Miss Bennett loosed a scream, and thereupon there ensued a mad race between Fred Niblo and Matt Moore, leading man, to reach the struggling star. Niblo proved more agile, and had a start, in boot.

"The maniac," which had only one dimension, but had cost about $4,000 to build, was wrecked. Miss Bennett and other members of the cast were scratched and slightly bruised.

Seastrom to Film Famous
Caine Story

In a cinema storm as wild and intense as the human emotions which give the motif to the story, Victor Seastrom, Swedish director, last night launched his Goldwyn production of "The Master of Man," adapted from Sir Hall Caine's novel.

The first scene to be made, in which Max Baer as Bessie Colver was the only person appearing, was those in which Bessie, after an unfortunate experience, returns during a great storm to her stepfather's cottage. They were taken on a location to which had been sent a large quota of the Goldwyn lightning, rain and wind machines, and the company, all members of which were soaked by the "elements," worked all night.

The cast will be augmented immediately by David C. Jennings, Evelyn Selbie and Winter Hall, who work in the next sequence. Today, the Southern Pacific, will arrive shortly from New York to play the leading male role of Victor. Creighton Hale will play Alik, and the important feminine role of Fenella will shortly be cast.

Los Angeles will be represented by one of the largest delegations of any city sending members to the Chiefs of Police convention, meeting in Buffalo, June 11 to 16, according to the Convention Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce.

BARKER IS BACK FROM FAR NORTHConcludes Work on Film of Realism, Made in Canadian Surroundings

After months of hardship in the frigid reaches of the Canadian wilderness along the treacherous Bow River, thrills in the Big Bear country and just plain hard work at the studio, Reginald Barker has completed the making of "The Master of Woman," an all-star special for Louis B. Mayer presentation through Metro.

Based on the G. B. Lancaster novel, "The Law-Bringers," "The Master of Woman" gives promise of being the most spectacular and most successful production ever created by Mr. Barker. Its outstanding feature will be realism. To secure this much-desired element, the company covered over 10,000 miles in location travel for the right atmosphere and background for the scenes, and the action in every instance is real and stirring.

For the first time in history the turbulent, destructive Seymour Canyon Rapids near North Vancouver were conquered by a canoe to provide one of the greatest water thrills ever filmed for "The Master of Woman." The Indians in that section, who termed the boiling rapids "devil water," warned the company away from the river and its dangers, but Mr. Barker was determined to do the rapid scenes even if history had to be made in the doing.

Most of the exterior scenes for the picture were produced in Alberta in the vicinity of Banff, Lake Louise Station and Jasper which is the locale represented in the Lancaster novel. Love, romance and the contest of the two men over a girl furnish the main thread of the theme with the Northwest Mounted Police lending strength and picturesque to the main characters.

THEATER MAN MUST PAY WIFE ALIMONY

Michael Corper, manager of the Majestic Theater, was ordered yesterday by Judge Clock of Superior Court to pay his wife, Mrs. Miriam Corper, $200 a month alimony pending trial of her suit for divorce. The couple were married in London in 1914 and separated in October, 1923. Corper's address is given as the Alexandria. In her divorce complaint Mrs. Corper asserts her husband stayed out nights and was otherwise cruel. Milton Cohen is her attorney.

HOW BINA WEST FOUNDED ORDER

Was School Teacher When She First Got Idea

Borrowed Sum and Then Began to Organize

Likes to Mix Sentiment in Business Deals

The executive head of a company that would earn $1,000,000 in one year from its invested reserve probably would be pictured in the imagination—and usually would be an over-sized, bald-headed gentleman with the habits of chewing the ends of his cigars and taking sentiment out of his business.

But there is at least one such executive head in the United States that does not belong to that type, possibly for no other reason at all, than that she is a woman and not a man. And perhaps because the usual big executive does not mix sentiment with business, is one of the reasons why Miss Bina M. West, founder and supreme commander—or president—of the Woman's Benefit Association, one of the largest fraternal insurance companies in the world, believes there ought to be more women in business.

RANKS AS FIRST LADY

Besides being the executive head of the organization which yesterday closed its quadrennial convention here with an estimated attendance of 800, Miss West enjoys the honor of being in a position synonymous with that of the first lady of the land. Together with her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth West, who has long past her three score and ten mark, Miss West is virtually idolized by the organization. The many honors bestowed upon daughter and omphalos of the association bespeak the esteem in which they are held.

Not many leaders in the big business of America today started from such a humble beginning as did Miss West in 1922. She was then a school teacher in Cape, Mich. Her work brought her into close contact with the people of her neighborhood. She shared in their pleasures and witnessed the tragedies which the breaking up of a home through the death of wife and mother entails. She sought a practical remedy—to refute the general belief that women could not safely be insured.

BORROWED MONEY

Accordingly, she started the Woman's Benefit Association without a member and dollar in sight. Miss West borrowed on her own note the money with which to purchase the first supplies and rented a little basement office in Port Huron, Mich. Then she started out to impress others with the sincerity of her intent. She went from town to town, usually with just enough money to get there but not enough to get away until she had obtained the first protection rates from people she had never seen before and who had never heard of her or her society.

Within two years, Miss West had established her society in sixteen States. Today it is established in fifty-six States and provinces. It has more than 270,000 members and a surplus of more than $1,000,000, on which over $1,000,000 interest was earned in 1922 by reason of wise investment.

NO PAID SOLICITORS

The past four years have been the most successful period in the history of the association. The dominating factor in Miss West's success has been her ability to impart to others the romance and sentiment—she herself gets out of business. The association has no staff of paid solicitors in the ordinary meaning of the term. Work is made a contest and the only remuneration is in the form of prizes with fitting recognition for distinguished service.

The Marathon Meet, just ended, was the culmination of a four-year membership campaign, a contest in which the association made an increase of $2,700 and in which 10,000 women, representing every State and province, were able to make the trip free of charge.

Those who won the trip were not insurance agents. They were housewives, school teachers, employees of office, factory and store. Many of them never had been out of their home State. And while the members were taking advantage of the opportunity to see the Golden West, the rate of growth of the association doubled. It was Miss West's own idea and one which has worked wonders for the organization.

ON TRIAL FOR MURDER

Milton Taylor, negro, went on trial before Judge McCormick yesterday on a charge of killing his wife. The shooting occurred on February 12, last, while Taylor and his wife were quarreling over some money.

Edward McLaughlin, division passenger agent of the Southern Pacific at San Antonio, had the distinction of being the old man passenger on the Dixie Marathon, the special train which brought Texas and other Gulf State representatives to the Woman's Benefit Association convention.

Mr. McLaughlin accompanied the train to Los Angeles as personal representative of the road. Stops were made at El Paso and Tucson. The train also was routed by way of the Imperial Valley towns where the travelers were able to witness the tremendous growth taking place in that section of Southern California.

Leaders from Various Regions at Women's Benefit Association Convention

OHIO had the second largest attendance at the quadrennial convention of the Woman's Benefit Association, being surpassed only by delegates and visitors from California. The Buckeye State has the largest membership of any State or province in the jurisdiction of the W.B.A.

Mrs. Nellie C. V. Heppert is great commander of the association's supreme board, which has nearly 40,000 members. A special train brought more than 600 Ohio members to the convention. Mrs. Heppert is a member of the supreme board of trustees and also deputy commander for Kentucky.

The Hawaiian delegation, in charge of Mrs. Elizabeth Covell, deputy supreme commander, brought 500 leis to the convention as an expression of their best wishes to members of the States. Mrs. Nellie E. Lounsbury, in addition to being great commander of Pennsylvania, is also a member of the supreme board of trustees.

The great commander for Michigan, Mrs. Albert V. Droelle, is also deputy supreme commander for Wisconsin and a member of the supreme conference board.

Mrs. Laura B. Hart, great commander of Texas, is a past supreme commander. At present, she is also a deputy supreme commander of Mississippi, Louisiana, Arizona and New Mexico.

OLD NOTE IS TREASURED BY FOUNDER

Miss West Keeps Canceled
Paper as Reminder of Her Start in Life

Canceled notes usually are nothing more than grim reminders of "hard times." But in all the possessions of Miss Bina M. West, founder and supreme commander of the Woman's Benefit Association, there is nothing she cherishes more than a thirty-year-old note for $500, which she had canceled in 1893.

It was this note that started the Woman's Benefit Association on its way. "I wanted to start a fraternal insurance society for women," Miss West said, "but I didn't have the money in 1893. I was able to borrow it by giving that note. With the $500 I started out, renting a basement office in Port Huron, Mich. Within a short time I paid back the money and had the note canceled, retaining the old note as a memento. I never once thought that the association would grow to be as big as it now is."

ANGELOS IN LEAD

Los Angeles has more members of the Woman's Benefit Association than any city west of Chicago. Seven local organizations are in existence here. Commanders of the local clubs are Mrs. Julia C. Ginn, Mrs. Belle M. Bernard, Mrs. Jennie Berryhill, Mrs. Mamie E. Roberts, Mrs. Jennie Dunham, Mrs. Grace Drummond and Mrs. Gertrude Davis.

PROCESSION OF YEARS GIVEN

Relief fund was established in 1902. The $1,000,000 mark was passed by the association in 1904. In this year a supreme medical board was created. The association on January 1, 1906, became a beacon light to other societies in their efforts toward solvency, when it adopted an adequate table of rates for all new business. In 1906 the association affiliated itself with the Canadian Council of Women. At the sixth regular supreme review held at Atlantic City in July, 1907, total permanent disability protection was provided on the basis of the first Canadian delegation was in attendance. The net gain in membership for this period was 45,932 and the total membership at the end of 1907 was 158,134.

MEMORIAL ESTABLISHED

From 1908 to 1912, the following important events took place. The hospital and home fund of the association was increased at the seventh regular supreme review convention in 1911. A memorial was established in honor of Mrs. Lillian M. Hollister in Detroit, Mich., where the first hospital service was endowed. At this time, a junior ritual was compiled to promote the interest of the junior work of the association. The twentieth anniversary of the association was observed in every local organization on October 1, 1912. The total membership at the close of this period was 167,482.

The fifth period of years, 1913-17, was marked by the following events: The second W. B. A. Hospital service was established in 1913 at Wesley Hospital, Chicago. Membership in the association increased to 200,000, and these were augmented by many thousands of dollars through the individual subscriptions of members and reviews. On September 15, 1918, the peace jubilee was celebrated at Port Huron, Mich., by the gathering of members and fraternal visitors from the entire jurisdiction. In the same year the service flag of the association was formally demobilized by Mrs. Edwin Deady, later to be Secretary of the Navy.

It pays to advertise. So declares Miss Frances D. Partridge, Supreme Record Keeper for the Woman's Benefit Association, who attributes the success of the convention just ended to the advance publicity given the quadrennial meeting.

In the four years since the last convention was held it is declared that the Los Angeles meeting was nationally advertised in many ways, and in all more than 10,000 copies of publications carrying advance articles on the gathering were distributed, together with 50,000 booklets.

Besides these mediums of publicity, thousands of letters have been written, calling attention to the convention and interesting the public. Miss Partridge said: "By this method we were able to bring together the greatest attendance in the history of the association."

CALIFORNIA GAINS BOOSTERS IN OHIO

DELEGATES HERE OF WOMAN'S BENEFIT ASSOCIATION ARE ENTHUSIASTIC

California will have at least 200 new boosters in the State of Ohio as a result of the convention of the Woman's Benefit Association which closed here yesterday, according to Mrs. Nellie C. V. Heppert, Great Commander of the Buckeye State.

Ohio delegates to the convention chartered a special train to bring them west, with the exception of a few of the travelers, the visit to California was their first, according to Mrs. Heppert. The Ohio delegates were delighted with Southern California and its climate and scenery and during their short stay here became regular Golden State boosters. As each delegate represents a family and a large circle of relatives and friends back East, Mrs. Heppert declared that the Ohio society in Los Angeles will evidently have several new members before many more weeks.

HELP GIVEN SOLDIERS IN WORLD WAR

Various Units Formed to Do Patriotic Work; Fund
Also Founded

The Woman's Benefit Association was one of the few organizations of women that carried on an international service program during the war. Fraternal societies of the continent were called on to aid the soldiers, and the association, working through its local organizations in the United States and Canada, gave valiant help. The members immediately banded themselves into active groups and knitting surgical dressing and home nursing units took the place of the regular organization work. A patriotic fund was founded. The Liberty and Victory bond investment of the association amounted to $500,000, and these were augmented by many thousands of dollars through the individual subscriptions of members and reviews.

On September 15, 1918, the peace jubilee was celebrated at Port Huron, Mich., by the gathering of members and fraternal visitors from the entire jurisdiction. In the same year the service flag of the association was formally demobilized by Mrs. Edwin Deady, later to be Secretary of the Navy.

WOMAN'S BAND FROM TEXAS AT CONVENTION

HOUSTON DELEGATES GIVE CONCERTS; ARRIVE ON SPECIAL TRAIN

The 200 Texas delegates to the convention of the Woman's Benefit Association, besides chartering a special train over the lines of the Southern Pacific, the "Dixie Marathon," pushed themselves into the limelight by bringing with them the Woman's Hustlers Band of Houston. The band was one of the principal attractions at the convention.

The band gave concerts at El Paso and Tucson, where short stops were made on the trip out. The train was routed through California, El Centro and other Imperial Valley towns.

Miss Maribel Loving, granddaughter of Mrs. Laura B. Hart, southwestern representative of the association, was the mascot of the Texas delegation.

Miss West Originated Idea to Protect Women

Chief Aim is to Preserve
Home Intact

Life insurance for women was a new idea when Miss Bina M. West founded the Woman's Benefit Association thirty years ago. Today Miss West is the leading woman fraternalist in the country and, in fact, in the world. Her rise from a youthful school-teacher to head of the W.B.A. is one of the great achievements of "big business."

To preserve the home intact by providing death and disability protection for women was her aim, and to achieve this end she organized the Woman's Protective Association in Michigan. In benefit alone, since 1892, Miss West has personally signed away $24,000,000 and she has $17,000,000 more at home safely invested in municipal bonds for a reserve fund on which $1,000,000 interest was earned in 1922.

MEMBERSHIP IS LARGE

The Woman's Benefit Association is not only the largest fraternal benefit society composed exclusively of women in the world, but its large membership and ample reserves place it high among all life insurance companies. In the life benefit department are 222,000 members and nearly $200,000,000 of insurance is in force. Operating along fraternal lines, the charge has been reduced to a minimum. In addition to its activities as an insurance agency, the Woman's Benefit Association has organized summer camps and girls' clubs for the younger members, and a junior organization for the children. Mothers may enroll their babies in the Cradle Roll and receive assistance in their care.

"Regret sometimes is expressed for the tendency toward the disintegration of the home which is said to be taking place in America," Miss West said. "It is indeed illuminating, then, and encouraging to all who accord the home its true importance, to find this large body of women operating on a business basis and achieving the success it is in strengthening the home ties."

BENEFITS THE HOME

"The Woman's Benefit Association is not a reform organization. It is organized to do practical, constructive work and is succeeding in its mission. It exists to make American homes safer for women and children and functions in a hundred practical ways to preserve inviolate and intangible things which raise the home above a dwelling place.

"Its benefits are extended to every walk and age of life. It advocates no political belief or religious creed. Its qualifications for membership are only good character and sound body. We hope to follow up the Los Angeles convention by a huge membership drive which we believe undoubtedly will be a tremendous success."

Only women are permitted in the membership of the association. No man ever has sat on the executive board. The work of the association is carried on through its 2400 local organizations throughout the United States and Canada. There are ninety-nine organizations in California, of which seven are in the city of Los Angeles.

MRS. BAIRD IS POPULAR SECRETARY

She is Close Associate of W. B. A. Commander and Also an Editor

If Miss Bina M. West, supreme commander of the Woman's Benefit Association, sat on a throne, Mrs. Mary McEachern Baird probably would be known as the "power behind the throne."

Possibly no other woman in the entire association is so well known and liked as Mrs. Baird. As private secretary to Miss West, Mrs. Baird is in constant touch with the local organizations throughout the country.

Mrs. Baird is an associate editor of the Ladies' Review, the official magazine of the association, and also is the Canadian agent of the organization. She is a native of Canada.

"I have been with the Woman's Benefit Association for twenty years," Mrs. Baird said, "and never have I seen such enthusiasm in the organization as at the present time. The Woman's Benefit Association evidently is going to have new laurels when the convention comes around again."

Modern science knows that the most important factor in the prevention of disease is the maintenance of life and health, and the prevention through health examinations is still more beneficial. With this in view, the Woman's Benefit Association is fostering a campaign for the establishment of health centers throughout the country, in Canada and in Hawaii. These centers may come for examination and treatment, free of charge. Each center is to be in charge of a competent health supervisor and fully equipped with all modern facilities for examination and first aid treatment. Los Angeles is the first city on the Pacific Coast to have such a center, and its establishment has proved to be of great benefit to the work of the organization. The Los Angeles center

The Woman's Benefit Association is distinctly an organization of women and virtually all of its business throughout the United States, Canada and Hawaii is in the hands of women exclusively.

However, the organization is thorough education and practice in her profession and her work has been instrumental in bringing about the rapid growth and prosperity of the organization.

Dr. Fifield is aided in the work of the organization by two women assistants, Dr. Katharine C. Manion and Dr. Annie Reynolds. Both women are former residents of the Pacific Coast, Dr. Manion being a graduate of the Oregon Medical College and Dr. Reynolds being a former practicing physician at Tacoma, having received her medical education at Hahnemann College, Chicago.

Dr. Fifield has held the office for four years. Previously she had been chief medical examiner for the Western States for twenty years. A graduate of Cooper College, San Francisco, she has had is in the Western Mutual Life Insurance Building and is serving all of the Southern California. Miss Ethel Fouse, a graduate from Holy Cross Hospital, Salt Lake City, is supervisor. An average of twenty-five members a month apply for treatment.

Literature on disease prevention and health is distributed from the office here. Each member is supposed to undergo a general examination twice a year. This work is fast growing in usefulness as members get to appreciate the importance of the service, according to Miss Fouse.

The fast motorship Principlo, employed on the Pacific Coast as a freighter, is again to be offered at public sale by United States Marshal Sittel, Saturday, June 2. It was advertised some weeks ago but the sale has been held up until now. There are debts against the vessel amounting to $81,204 and it must bring that much money to clear off the liens.

The guard of honor was the last to enter the field and the first to be seated in the reviewing stands. The guards were dressed in green organdie frocks, hats and slippers and carried shepherd crooks decorated in green streamers and flowers.

WOMEN TO OPEN DRIVE IN VALLEY

Benefit Association Seeks to Put California in Lead in Membership

The California division of the Woman's Benefit Association is planning to open an immense membership drive in San Joaquin Valley, according to Mrs. Julia C. Ginn, deputy great commander of California.

The quadrennial state convention of the organization was conducted in Fresno in March for the purpose of arousing interest in that section of the state in behalf of the order. According to Mrs. Ginn, the Fresno convention was the most successful in the history of the state organization and it made the way clear for opening the membership campaign in the valley.

California at present is fourth in membership in the Woman's Benefit Association, Pennsylvania, Texas and Illinois having greater memberships. California officers of the association are planning to take the leadership, however.

Woman's Order Paying Benefits in Three Ways

The Woman's Benefit Association claims the distinction of being one of the few fraternal societies that maintain three separate funds, for three separate branches of activity.

A patriotic fund, established during the war, aid of soldiers, is still in existence and is being used for the aid of the sons of association members who served in the war. A relief fund, to help members in localities devastated by fire, flood, tornado or other disaster, has also been established. The association in addition maintains a hospital service fund to care for needy sick members.

Plans Gives Women More
Time in Southland

Although the quadrennial international session and thirtieth anniversary celebration of the founding of the Woman's Benefit Association will be brought to a close this afternoon at Occidental Bowl, Southern California will remain hostess to the thousands of visitors for several more days.

Those in charge of the convention had planned to reconvene the sessions in San Francisco the first inst. San Francisco was dropped from the cities to be visited, however, and the delegates will go north to Portland and Seattle.

Arrangements for side trips in Northern California have been made by the convention committee. These will include the Yosemite National Park, Trips to the Yellowstone National Park, Canadian Rockies and Pike's Peak also have been made for those who desire to make them.

With the canceling of the San Francisco visit, the visitors will be able to remain in Los Angeles and Southern California three days longer, as the itinerary north of San Francisco will be carried out as originally planned.

For the benefit of delegates and visitors, arrangements for sight-seeing trips from Los Angeles to the following points have been made: Mt. Lowe, Old Mission, Riverside, Redlands, Topanga Canyon, Santa Monica, Venice, Ocean Park and the orange groves.

Mrs. Mary Keate, deputy commander at Chicago, is the most enthusiastic "go-getter" of the Woman's Benefit Association.

During her three and a half years' connection with the organization of the Woman's Benefit Association in the Windy City, Mrs. Keate has obtained enough new members to start a fraternal insurance society all by herself. Her record for the three and a half years is the selling of $3,500,000 to $4,000,000 insurance. The average insurance per member is somewhere between $700 and $800. "Just watch my step," Mrs. Keate declared to members attending the quadrennial convention. "I've just got a good start."

Building May Be Extended for Growth

Structure in Michigan City from which Woman's Benefit Association directs its business.

THE home office of the Woman's Benefit Association at Port Huron, Mich., is the only structure of its kind in the world. It was built and is officered and managed by a fraternal benefit society composed exclusively of women.

The edifice is of Corinthian architecture, built on the Renaissance style and modeled upon English lines, and so planned that it can be extended to accommodate additional offices as the association grows.

Thirty years ago the association started in a little basement office, $150 in debt for office furnishings. The present building, one of the largest and most beautiful in Port Huron, contrasts vividly with the first offices of the organization.

Delegates on Way West Join at Windy City

Chicago, the largest center of activity for the Woman's Benefit Association, was selected by the supreme officers as the concentration point of delegates and visitors who made the trip to California for the convention.

One hundred and twenty-six clubs with a total membership of 18,000 are located in the Windy City. The city also is the home of Great Commander Minnie Keating of Illinois.

Keep your diet "in season"

This warmer weather calls for a health-guarding diet—light and cooling, but plentiful in nourishment. That's Shredded Whole Wheat.

Eat plenty of berries and fruits, too, with wholesome milk and cream. By serving them on two Shredded Wheat Biscuits, you'll have a perfectly balanced summer luncheon or breakfast, with all the essential food elements in their correct proportions, and "roughage" enough for healthy, natural laxative effects.

And remember, Shredded Wheat is ready-cooked and ready-to-eat. The crisp, tasty oven-baked loaves provide a wholesome meal in a jiffy, and all at the cost of but a few cents. It's a happy suggestion for your all-summer diet.

WOMAN'S BENEFIT ASSOCIATION

Starts Its 31st Year of Service to Women and the Home

2643 Local Units in 56 States and Provinces Operate as Service Centers for the Largest Fraternal Benefit Society Composed Exclusively of Women in the World

IN THIS day of "big business" with examples of great accomplishment on every hand, size alone attracts scarcely more than passing interest. The Woman's Benefit Association which is now celebrating its 30th Anniversary in this city, however, is an organization unique in the realm of great achievement.

Idealistic and humanitarian in its purposes, it is intensely practical and constructive in application. It operates on a sound business basis which assures results, but through its activities runs a spirit of friendliness and fraternalism which wins the love and admiration of everyone who comes in contact with it. It is international in its scope, extending from Alaska to the Rio Grande and from Coast to Coast, but the application of its benefits is localized to conform to the conditions existing in every community.

And it is an organization made up entirely and exclusively of women! No man has ever sat on its executive board; there is not a man among its members. It is essentially an organization of women working for the betterment of women and the preservation of the home, and its success is a tribute to the broad vision and outstanding executive ability of a woman.

Miss Bina M. West founded the Woman's Benefit Association thirty years ago. Life insurance for women was then a new idea, but under Miss West's leadership the Association grew steadily until it had spread into every state in the Union and province of Canada. Today even Alaska has its members, and it has crossed the seas to Hawaii.

Protection of the Home

To preserve the home intact by providing death and disability protection for women is the purpose of the Woman's Benefit Association, and it has found many avenues of practical service to help achieve this end. Insurance for women, of tremendous importance in itself, is supplemented by extensive work along the lines of health promotion. The beautiful ritualistic work and social activities of each Review, or local unit, make it a social center for its members. There are summer camps and girls' clubs for the younger members, and a Junior organization for the children. Mothers may enroll their babies in the Cradle Roll and receive assistance in their care, and throughout all its manifold activities the Woman's Benefit Association makes for the building of character, for health, and for good citizenship.

Protection is given at cost, based on the same statistical tables used by all the leading life insurance companies. Only the necessary expense of operation is added to this basic charge, and operating as it does along fraternal lines, this cost is minimized. In the Life Benefit Department are 252,000 members. Their insurance is protected by a reserve of $16,500,000, safely invested in government and municipal bonds. Nearly $200,000,000 of insurance is in force, and more than $23,000,000 has been paid to beneficiaries. The Woman's Benefit Association is not only the largest fraternal benefit society composed exclusively of women in the world, but its large membership and ample reserves place it high among all life insurance companies.

Health Centers

Medical science knows that the detection of disease in its early stages is of paramount importance in the preservation of life and health, and that disease prevention through health promotion is more beneficial still. To this end the Woman's Benefit Association maintains Health Centers for its members where any member may come for examination and treatment free of charge. Each Health Center is in charge of a competent Health Supervisor and fully equipped with all modern facilities for examination and first aid treatment, and through these centers a never-ending work of spreading information conducive to good health is carried on.

The Los Angeles Health Center in the Western Mutual Life Building has done a work of incalculable benefit among the members of the Association in Los Angeles County. Health Centers are now maintained in thirty-one cities and in a few years every city in the country will be so equipped.

Hospital Service

Going hand in hand with this work and extending fraternal service one step farther, hospital service in the event of illness is given free of charge to needy members. This service, established seven years ago, is now in effect in every state, reaching rural as well as city members. Through the Hospital, Fraternal and Relief Fund maintained by the Association thousands of members incapacitated by illness or age and in financial need are cared for every year.

Summer Camps for Girls

The W. B. A. Summer Camps and Girls' Clubs for the younger members are extremely popular and successful as a means of gratifying the love for outdoor life every young person feels, and inculcating the spirit of fraternity in the young women of the country. Summer Camp Clubs have been organized from Coast to Coast and camps are maintained at suitable places where members may spend their vacations. Some of these Summer Camps have accommodations for one hundred girls and are filled to capacity all summer long. This summer there will be six or more State Camps in operation and many local camps where thousands of girls will spend healthy, happy and inexpensive vacations. Swimming, rowing, and the other usual camp activities are supplemented by basket ball, study of local trees and plants, choral singing, folk and aesthetic dancing, and other recreations under competent instruction.

and every facility is provided for a perfect outdoor vacation in comfortable, sanitary surroundings. The Association provides the camps, camp sites, camp managers, cooks and other helpers, relieving the girls of any semblance of work during vacation hours and all expense except the actual cost of their food.

During the winter the Summer Camp organizations remain active as Girls' Clubs and hold frequent social gatherings and entertainments. In these Camps and Clubs the younger members of the Woman's Benefit Association organize and find an abundance of fun and healthy recreation. Any member of a Summer Camp Club is privileged to attend any W. B. A. Camp in the country.

Junior Members

The Junior organization is made up of the children of the members and provides the means for frequent social gatherings and entertainments dear to both the children and their mothers. It also gives Junior protection, and in helping provide a healthy training and environment for the coming generation and teaching the little ones the spirit of fraternalism the W. B. A. is doing much to make good future citizens.

Social Centers

The work of the Association is carried out through more than 2,600 local organizations or Reviews throughout the United States and Canada. There are nearly three Reviews in California with an enrollment of more than eight thousand members, seven of them in Los Angeles and many more in the territory tributary to it. Each Review is a social center and club for its members, managing its own local affairs and acting as a "service center" through which the work of the central organization finds expression.

For Better Citizenship

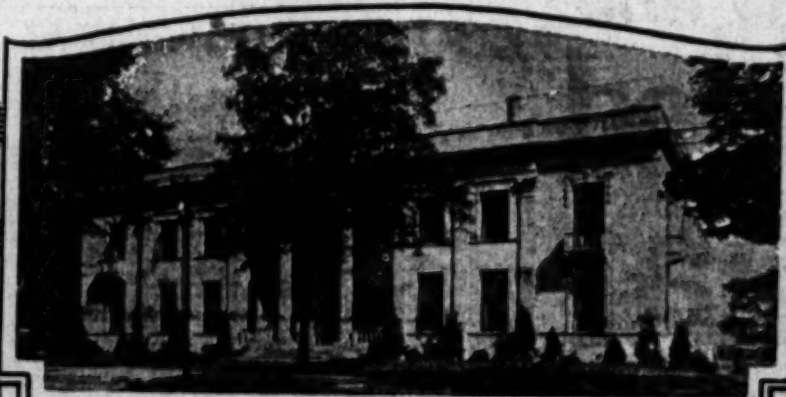

Regret is sometimes expressed for the tendency toward the disintegration of the home which is said to be taking place in America. It is indeed illuminating, then, and encouraging to all who accord the home its true importance to society to find this large and influential body of women operating on a business-like basis and achieving such notable success in strengthening the home ties.

The Woman's Benefit Association is not a reform organization. It is organized to do practical, constructive work and does it. It exists to make American homes safer for women and children and functions in a business-like practical way to preserve inviolate the intangible things which raise the home above the status of a dwelling place. Its benefits are extended to every walk and age of life. It advocates no political belief or religious creed. Its qualifications for membership are only good character and sound body, and any such woman who wishes her home to be preserved intact should see, who is in the very heart, be removed by death, may find therein the protection and the advantages to health and happiness which she seeks. Such women will find in the Woman's Benefit Association congenial friends waiting to welcome them, and are invited to write to Miss West or Mrs. Aydelotte for further information.

City Thanked for Hearty
Co-operation

Officers, supreme delegates and drill teams of the Woman's Benefit Association left Los Angeles last night for the Yosemite Valley, following the formal close of the organization's quadrennial convention, where they will stop for the remainder of the week. During the following week they will go to Portland, Seattle and Vancouver, where additional meetings have been planned.

"Los Angeles has extended every possible courtesy to us," Miss Bina M. West, supreme commander, said. "We never expect to be treated finer anywhere, and the association is deeply grateful to all those connected with the convention."

Visitors to the gathering, numbering approximately 700, are to remain in Los Angeles for several days before returning to their homes in the East. Only the delegates, officers and drill teams are to attend the State meetings in the Northern Pacific States.

Plans for additional health centers and summer camps formed the most important business transacted during the convention, according to officers. The association now maintains health centers and camps in several of the States, but plans made by the convention call for the establishment of these institutions throughout the jurisdiction of the W. B. A.

The Los Angeles convention has been the most important in the history of the association, Miss West declared. "The interest shown in the gathering indicates great things in the near future for the association."

WOMEN GRANT COLLEGE FUND

The Woman's Benefit Association yesterday notified Remsen D.
Bird, president of Occidental College, that the organization, as an expression of appreciation for the use of Patterson Field to conduct the quadrennial convention, had voted to present to the college a four-year scholarship.

The Woman's Benefit Association is mindful of the needs of every institution which has for its aim the education of the youth of the country," said Miss Nellie E.
Lounsbury, chairman of the committee which adopted the resolution authorizing the scholarship.

"Occidental College extended to us every courtesy and gave us its loyal support in the endeavor to adapt the field to the special features of the day."

"We hope that the scholarship will place on perpetual record our sincere and cordial appreciation for the courtesies extended."

The association also adopted resolutions praising the work of Mrs. Minnie W. Aydelotte and her assistants, who helped to arrange for the convention. The Chamber of Commerce, Mayor George Cryer, the Santa Fe Railway and others who took part in the activities of the convention were also thanked by the resolution.

CREDIT for the growth in membership of the Woman's Benefit Association in California is given to Mrs. Minnie W.
Aydelotte of Oakland, now great commander in the State by her co-workers.

For twenty-one years Mrs. Aydelotte has been the guiding spirit of the organization in the Golden State and on several occasions has taken part in national affairs of the organization. She is at present serving as general convention director in charge of arrangements

ASSOCIATION HAS LARGE OFFICE HERE

Mrs. Gertrude Rutherford

The largest office of the Woman's Benefit Association west of Chicago is the Los Angeles office, although the local office has been in existence less than three years.

Mrs. Gertrude Rutherford, group collector, in charge of the office, is given credit for the rapid growth in this organization in the Los Angeles territory. She has made it her aim to keep pace with Los Angeles, and as a result, new members are being added daily.

As the collector at Los Angeles,
Mrs. Rutherford handles approximately $6000 a month received from the 1700 members in the five local clubs. In the last year, she paid out $50,000 in death claims.
She is assisted in her work by Mrs.
Sophie Rosshirt.

FOUNDER OF ORDER IS HONORED IN MICHIGAN

MISS WEST HELPED TO CODI-FY WELFARE LAWS IN NATIVE STATE

Miss Bina M. West, founder and supreme commander of the Woman's Benefit Association, is a woman of many accomplishments.
She was the first woman in Michigan elected to a seat on the board of county school examiners; represented the National Council of Women of the United States at the International Council of Women held in Geneva, Switzerland, in 1904; appointed by the Governor of Michigan as member of the committee of three to re-codify State laws relating to child welfare; chairman of the child welfare division of Michigan council, national defense, and vice-chairman of the Michigan Republican State Central Committee.

Miss West was mentioned for United States Senator to fill out the unexpired term of Senator Newberry.

MONUMENT TO BE RAISED TO WAR HERO

Members of the 104th Infantry, 26th Division, are urged to gather at Beth Israel Cemetery on Whittier Boulevard this morning at 11 o'clock to take part in ceremonies dedicating a monument to Jack Boas, former newsboy killed in action at the Argonne, Nov. 12, 1918.
The monument is being erected by the boy's father, John J. Fox, Phone No. Hollywood 6379, in charge of the ceremony.

Mrs. Minnie W. Aydelotte

for comforts, entertainment and welfare of the organization now in Los Angeles for their quadrennial international session.
"Life insurance for women formerly was almost a new idea," Mrs. Aydelotte said, commenting on her first experience with the association in this State. "It has proved, however, to be a great benefit to women and has met with approval."

Woman's Benefit Association Plans to Establish Several New Places for Recreation

Organization of several summer camps by the Woman's Benefit Association in California will be started within the next few weeks by Miss Inez E. Lincoln of Cincinnati, summer camp supervisor of the association.

Miss Lincoln has traveled from coast to coast in her work for the association and under her direction, numerous summer camps are being established throughout the jurisdiction of the W.B.A.

"The outdoors is where human beings can live naturally, simply and joyfully," Miss Lincoln said. "There is no place in the world so natural a rendezvous for youth as under God's own heaven. Not one of us but at some time has envied the gypsies in their care-free and happy existence. We envy them because it is only natural and instinctive."

"The W.B.A. Girls' Clubs are organized to give to the girls at least two weeks in the year to sylvan life, coupled with modern methods of healthful outdoor living. The association provides the camps, camp sites, full equipment, camp managers, cooks and other helpers to make the vacation an ideal thus relieving the girls of any semblance of work to vacation hours."

Miss Bina M. West, supreme commander of the organization, is the originator of the plan for summer camps. Any member of the association is privileged to attend any W.B.A. camp for a period of two weeks. Certain weeks are set aside for unmarried members and special periods are provided in which mothers may attend with their children.

Wife Says Mate Advertised Her as Being Dumb

Clyde Lower often boasted of his wife to his friends, according to a divorce complaint filed yesterday by Mrs. Helen Angeline Lower. He told these friends, she said, that he had the "dumbest woman" in the world.

When their friends were not about, she asserts, he would lecture to her on the subject of her ignorance, concluding with the statement that she was absent when the brains were passed around. On other occasions he would fly into a rage, she says, and she would be forced to close the windows in order to keep the neighbors from hearing what he said. Also, she states, he refused to buy her a ring after their marriage and for the sake of appearances Mrs. Lower purchased one on payment. Her husband, however, refused to meet the payments, she says, and she was forced to give the ring up.

Lower is a member of the firm of Boyle-Dayton Company and is said by his wife to earn $600 a month. She asks $150 a month alimony. The complaint was prepared by Attorney Lloyd Wright.

Policemen Will Exercise With Guns in Armory

As a part of its program for the betterment of the police force, the Los Angeles Crime Commission has arranged with the National Guard to permit police officers the use of the pistol range in the basement of the Armory at Exposition Park.

It is probable that the Crime Commission will sponsor the offering of suitable prizes for the best records for marksmanship made by the policemen and that these ratings may be incorporated in the merit system to be installed in the department as a means of determining promotion.

An effort will be made to extend this program to the county peace officers as well.

BUYERS GOING EAST

Twenty-four buyers, headed by four members of the sales committee, are leaving for New York to obtain merchandise for the twenty-third annual department managers' sale of the Broadway Department Store. It has been the custom in the past for the sales committee to inspect the merchandise after it arrives in Los Angeles, but this year the inspection will be made in New York.

Following are the buyers: J. D. Russell, A. I. Robbins, E. L. Rudolph, Miss G. Powers, Mrs. A. Peacock, Mrs. M. E. Turrish, C. B. Short, E. J. Moriarty, Miss Nina Nalley, G. H. Gardner, Anna C. POWER BONDS DEFEAT URGED

Maynard McFie Requests
"No" Votes

Denounces Issue as Useless at This Time

Other Projects More in Need,
He Asserts

"In this attempt to force through a power bond issue of $25,000,000, all but $10,000,000 of which it is planned to spend at Boulder Canyon Dam, we have a shining example of putting the cart before the horse, for there is no such thing as Boulder Canyon Dam as yet so no money can possibly be spent there for power."

Prefacing a sharp denunciation of the power bonds with this statement, Maynard McFie, former president and present executive of the Chamber of Commerce and active in movements for civic advancement said yesterday at a meeting of the Los Angeles Taxpayers Association, that citizens should put forth every effort to defeat this proposition which appears as No. 6 on the ballot June 5.

"When the need for public improvements of an essential character is so great that our bonding capacity is being taxed to the limit to keep abreast of the progress of this fast growing city we should not imperil municipal credit with a needless bond issue of this kind," he continued.

GREATER NEEDS

"There are $61,000,000 in bond issues on our June ballot. Of this amount $26,000,000 is for improvements right here in the city—$10,000,000 of which is for expansion and development of Los Angeles Harbor which is not adequate to meet present needs and which of all projects should receive first consideration—for a new City Hall and a site to build it on—for the protection of our new library site by purchase of additional land—for six new viaducts across the river so as to relieve traffic congestion—and for playgrounds for the children.

"There is no need of the $25,000,000 for Boulder Canyon Dam. The Chamber of Commerce after a careful investigation and survey of conditions has gone on record as being opposed to the voting of these power bonds. The United States government will build the dam as soon as a few remaining obstacles have been removed, but it will be many years before the work can be completed and power developed.

OTHER FEATURES

"I am thoroughly in sympathy with the Boulder Canyon project—as a project. There are two features, however, of a more primary purpose than the hydroelectric feature which has been played up thus far as the sole reason for the project. I mean first the storage dam which will hold back the yearly June freshets of the Colorado and thus save the Imperial Valley from what happened in 1904—which is the first requisite—secondly, the reclamation idea, which will permit the stored waters to reclaim a vast arid district. The hydroelectricity will be a by-product of the first two.

"But first of all the States of the Pacific Southwest will have to be harmonized. A good many years will elapse before Congress will vote the money and as many more before the dam will be actually ready. Then, and only then, will be the time to talk of transmission lines or power houses. When that time comes it will take the combined effort of every electric interest in the Southwest to join in one gigantic project in order to effect peak loads at a minimum cost.

"It is not difficult to call a special bond election when this city requires money for any essential purpose. It would therefore be the part of wisdom for our citizens to vote against this power bond issue of $25,000,000, which, if voted, would make difficult the marketing of bonds that must be voted for improvements that are of immediate necessity."

SPARKS RECOVERING

Councilman Sparks announced yesterday that he would be recovered sufficiently to be back on duty at Thursday's City Council session. Mr. Sparks has been ill for two weeks, threatened with pneumonia.

COURT ENDS MARITAL SNARL

Grants Divorce Which Sets Mrs. Reichardt Free in Two-Family Tangle

Another chapter in the mixed marital affairs of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Reichardt and Mr. and Mrs. Albert H. Branch was written yesterday when Judge Cabanas in Superior Court granted a divorce to Mrs. Lavinia P. Reichardt on the ground of cruelty. The cruelty consisted of an accusation by her husband that she had been unduly affectionate toward Branch, an accusation judicially rebutted by Judge Burnell recently when he denied Reichardt a decree.

Mrs. Lavinia P. Reichardt

The Branch-Reichardt divorce cases caused a sensation when they first came into court because of the charges that there had been an exchange of husbands and wives. Mrs. Branch obtained a decree recently in Judge Valentine's court, so both couples are now legally separated.

It was asserted at earlier trials that both couples had come from the East at about the same time, and having no other friends, had gravitated together naturally.

Both the Branches and the Reichardts were present in court yesterday. Asked whether a new set of marriages was pending as a result of the mixup, they were noncommittal.

"It's too early to say," remarked one of the quartet.

LAND CONTEST HEARD

Register Valentine and Receiver Smith of the local Land Office yesterday heard the contest instituted by Claude C. Jones against the homestead entry of Ramona Bardees, involving a quarter-section of land twelve miles from San Juan Capistrano, Riverside county. It was asserted that the land had not been improved and cultivated as required by the homestead law.

TRAGEDY IS LAID TO DEATH FEUD

to raise his arms as the bandit commanded.

The nature of the wound and its position, it is pointed out, make this a physical impossibility as the bandit would have been forced to reach around behind both Boatwright and his wife to shoot Boatwright, who was sitting in the front seat of the machine on the right.

The complaint against Boatwright was sworn to by Deputy Sheriff Sweeney and Allan. The two deputies have been working on the case since the 20th inst.

Beasley was brought to the Receiving Hospital in Boatwright's car in a dying condition. At the time Boatwright told police that the victim had been shot by a bandit when he refused to raise his hands.

HELD ON DRUG CHARGE

Commissioner Long yesterday held K. C. Venable and O. W. Gurely, charged with conspiracy to violate the Harrison narcotic law, under bonds of $5000 each. The case will be taken up by the Federal grand jury.

RODEO WILL ENTERTAIN ELK PARTY

Popanga Beach to be the Scene of Gay Week-End
Revelries

Elks of Southern California are preparing for the annual "Round-Up" at Popanga Beach, four miles north of Santa Monica, next Saturday and Sunday. The program will be under the auspices of Santa Monica Lodge, No. 906.

Champion cowboys and cowgirls from all over the West have been signed to compete at the rodeo. Wild steers and fierce animals that challenge the best that is in the rough riders of the plains will be there, it is said. Indians and their squaws will also be on hand.

One of the features of the round-up will be the "Days of '49 Camp," with its many replicas of early frontier life. Old-fashioned bars, with everything except the wetness, dance halls, gambling palaces are promised to occupy prominent places in this part of the show.

INFLUX OF TOURISTS INCREASES

Santa Fe Reports Gain of 50 Per Cent Over Same Period Last Year

The rush of tourist travel to California since the 15th inst., the date upon which the lowered rates took effect, has been so large and unprecedented that an enumeration of it will doubtless surprise those who have not had an opportunity to come in direct contact with its dimensions.

James E. Duffy, general passenger agent of the Santa Fe, announces the results of the computation for the first two weeks of this influx of people, and it reaches a total of 81 per cent greater than the travel of the same period last year, although at that time it was felt that a new record had been created for early summer passenger movement to California.

It is stated that the class of passengers arriving on the limited trains does not constitute the largest proportion, although that has been heavy, but the greater numbers are those distributed through the additional overland trains carrying passengers from the Middle West, Texas and the South, who are without doubt taking advantage of the early opportunity to visit and to remain in the State. There are strong evidences, especially to the railroad, that the movement will continue, and so far as the Santa Fe is concerned, preparations are being made to meet a travel demand through June and July which will maintain the same proportion of increase through those months.

Mr. Duffy stated also that reservations and inquiries in the eastern section of the country show the determination of a most unusual number of people in that territory to visit the Pacific Coast this summer, notwithstanding the extraordinary travel to Europe.

City Drops Suit on Its Proposed Reservoir Site

Elimination of condemnation proceedings by the city of Los Angeles against the Tejuca Water Power Company and others to obtain fifty acres of land in the Big Tejuca Canyon for a reservoir site was announced yesterday by William Milholland, engineer with the water bureau at the hearing of the case before Judge Hewitt in the Superior Court. The city sought to condemn the property valued at approximately $500,000 by the owners and set a value of $12,000 on the reservoir site.

Milholland, testifying in the rebuttal by the city, said the city has come to the conclusion that a better and cheaper site for the big reservoir planned has been found in the San Francisco Canyon.

The suit has been on trial for twenty-eight days before Judge Hewitt. A large number of exhibits have been introduced, the plaintiff filing sixty-one maps and pictures and the defendants introducing exhibits lettered from A to I.

It was stated that the suit as pertains to injunction and other points will be continued. The exact location in the San Francisco Canyon under consideration by the city was not given out yesterday, it being understood that the deal has not been finally closed for the site. Mr. Milholland, however, stated it could be obtained for a fraction of the cost of the Tejuca site.

the police believe. Two were left behind, 35 and 45 caliber automatics. Twenty shots were fired, police assert. That many empty cartridges were found on the floors of the blood-stained rooms.

Mrs. Ballo and Mrs. Vaccaro are sisters, according to police. Three small children of the dead man and two of Vaccaro were taken to the Juvenile ward last night. Both women will be held in the County Hospital for questioning when their condition will permit. Mrs. Vaccaro was suffering from hysteria last night.

So far as is known there were no eyewitnesses to the battle, except the two women and the five children. Neighbors said they heard the shots but could give no further information. The number of the truck in which the three men escaped is known to the police.

will do so satisfactorily without the aid of outside agencies."

NEVADA FOR PROJECT

For the six States that have ratified the pact Gov. Scrugham had only the highest praise. Nevada, he proudly asserted, was unanimous in its vote.

"And where I have gone," he said, "I have found the people absolutely for the project."

Nevada, declared the Governor, is less interested in the matter of ownership by municipalities or individuals than in seeing the dam constructed, which should be the primary consideration of everyone, he said. "I do not mean by this that I am committed to municipal ownership," he explained, "but I do believe the dam should be built."

Another reason for Gov. Scrugham's visit to Los Angeles at this time is to deliver a Memorial Day address today in connection with the dedication of the American Legion Cemetery at Glendale. The Governor is a past national vice-commander of the American Legion, and for a time was acting national commander.

Before returning to Nevada the latter part of the week, Gov. Scrugham intended to discuss the Boulder Dam project with Capt. John D. Fredericks, recently elected to Congress, and Special Counsel Mathews of the Board of Public Service Commissioners.

The Governor is living with and being entertained by O. T. Johnson at the latter's residence, 2949 West Seventh street.

FEDERAL CONVICTS GO EAST

McShane and Dr. Chin in Party Headed for Fort Leavenworth

William F. McShane, former president of the Sutherland Fruit Company, once popular man-about town and general factotum at the Vernon ham-and-egg prize fight, will leave this morning for an enforced absence of ten years at the Federal prison at Fort Leavenworth, Kan. He was convicted of dealing in forged bills of lading over the Santa Fe Railway.

Another in the company will be Dr. Henry Ching, South Broadway "herbalist," who made a specialty of dealing in narcotics. Dr. Ching will remain five years. When he comes back Ching will face two other charges.

Others in the party will be Edward J. Banks, Elmer Rosas, Antonio Juarez, W. F. Francis, Frank Hartley, George F. Martin, Robert Davis, Lee Deon, William Murphy, and W. R. Jones, all sentenced from the local Federal court.

Five prisoners bound for Fort Leavenworth, sentenced by Judge Trippett at Fresno recently, will join the party at this point. Lester Peralta will be dropped off at El Paso, where he is wanted to answer a Dyer Act charge. Deputy United States Marshal Rice will be in charge of the prison car, assisted by Guards Strong, Raphael, Gorman, Suppe and Bogardus.

LONG BEACH KNEE BAN IS RELEGATED

Council in Hot Session Repeals Leg-Curtain Law Instigated by Peek

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
LONG BEACH, May 29.—Knees along the sea shore at Long Beach will be allowed to dimple in their pristine glory. No curtains will be lowered to mar the beauty of those who have it to offer for the City Council, after a stormy session, today voted to supplant the famed Peek ordinance, the joy of the Comstockers, with a more lenient measure.

Following publication yesterday of newspaper stories about the revival of the Peek ordinance passed in 1920 against bathing suits that display the legs above the ankles, members of the City Council foresaw harmful publicity to Long Beach by the so-called "blue" measure.

Councilman Frank Downs today at the Council meeting insisted that the publicity regarding the proposed curtains for knees on bathing suits and other regulations was hurtful, and proposed that a less stringent ordinance take the place of the Peek law.

After a lengthy wrangle in which the Councilmen Downs was opposed by Councilmen Condit and Beck, the Council voted to repeal the measure. Councilmen Condit and Beck were the only members voting "No" to Councilman Downs' motion.

So the "Bee's knees" will remain uncurtained.

Goods Sold to Lower Bidder, Witness Avers

Asserted lockjacking at the auction of surplus army goods at Camp Kearney in February, 1922, was testified to yesterday by two witnesses at the trial of eight men on charges of conspiring to defraud the government of Bank Tinsley, James and a jury in United States District Court.

Dr. Charles L. Good, member of the San Diego County Board of Supervisors and county purchasing agent, testified that one lot of plows was knocked off at its bid but that someone else got them and declared Maj. Elser, one of the defendants, told him a quantity of hay and grain on which he wanted to bid would not be sold before 11 a.m. the last day and when he arrived at that hour found it had been sold early in the morning.

W. A. Russ, a rancher and second-hand dealer, testified he saw 9011 army coats knocked down for $10,100 though there was a bid of $12,000 for them.

The defendants are Ben Sugarman, Daniel Greenburg, Joe Greenburg, Ike Greenburg, Allen Harris, E. D. Hirsch, Capt. Frank Tinsley and Maj. Max Elser. Most of yesterday's session was taken up with statements by opposing counsel.

MRS. ROSE TELLS OF YEARS OF DEVOTION

WIFE OF FORMER MAYOR SORRY HUSBAND HAD TO BE PUT IN HOSPITAL

Mrs. H. H. Rose, wife of ex-Mayor Rose, who was taken to the psychopathic ward of the County Hospital on Monday for observation, expressed regret yesterday that her husband's condition had forced upon her the step which led to his removal to the county institution.

"Mr. Rose has been ill for six and a half years," Mrs. Rose said last night, "and until this week I kept him at home against the advice of physicians and friends. It was my hope to be able to nurse him through to his recovery, and if he did not recover I hoped his illness would reach the crisis in our own home. This week I reluctantly yielded to a step which our physicians have long urged upon me."

The former Mayor, who was a police judge here before his election to the mayoralty in 1915, will have a hearing on June 4 on an insanity complaint. The Rose home is at 2286 West Twenty-second street.

SYNCHOPATORS PROLOG AT KHJ

"Junior Cabaret"
in Rare Program

Tempo Part of Rellicking Music

Hour Offerings Joy to Youngsters

BY BEN A. MARKSON

Local entertainment was presented at KHJ last night by the Cabaret of Whittier under direction of Miss M. Theresa.
There was no cover charge, no cabaret tax, and no tips for performers. The age limit was 18 years and those attending illustrated why students of Whittier High School get wholesome fun out of life.
Whittier Junior Synchopators
the musical festivities.
"Buck" Dodson, saxophone and clarinet, Jack Kibler, Howard Gillette, xylophone, Coster, pianist, Walter and accompanist, Margaret and Garnet Alexander, Miss Theresa Bessler, violoneer, and Howard Gillette, violinist, directed.
The tempo went with "Peggy Cuddle Up," "Farewell to the Evening," and other selections.

KREISLER NUMBERS

Theresa Bessler, violin, accompanied by Rhena Pellerin, violinist, favored with two extraordinary Kreisler numbers,
"Schon Ros-marie" and "The Swan." Pellerin took a prominent part in the cabaret program and piano solos, accompanied by various performers, including a trio selection,
"Hot Day," with Miss Bessler, and Howard Gillette, violinist.

John Berger, baritone, sang
"Cuddle Up," "Farewell to the Evening," and "The Swan," accompanied by Coster, pianist, and Howard Gillette, violinist.

In addition to accompanying Mabel Cushman Hardison, Mrs.
House played piano solos with fine technical ability and interpretation. Her selections included "The Mountain," by Brainerd, "Intermezzo," by Lecheitzy, "A Mysterious Story," and "Rain Ceremony," by Homer Grunn.

CHILD STAR RECITES Emerson Frome Livingston, child favorite of the screen, and an apt reader whose appearances at KHJ are looked forward to by the lads and lasses, gave recitations that were well received.

Georgia McCrone Fifeild had the noon program all to herself in planologues and readings, accompanied by Mabelle Chapin Campbell.

The pianologues were "Soap,"
"Ain't it Fine Today," and "It Takes," all by Phyllis Fergus. Her readings included "Mon Pierre," by Ambery, and "The Blind Archer," by Arthur Conan Doyle. Her program was highly enjoyable.

H. R. Bonner, Director of Educational Research of the Narcotic Educational Association, gave the first of a series of talks on "Facts About Narcotics," the object being a warning against the menace of drugs.

DISCOUNT COMPANY OFFICERS ARRAIGNED
Josiah Kirby and Carroll Kirby, former officials of the Cleveland Discount Company, yesterday were arraigned before Judge Keetch on a charge of violating the State Securities Act. Their trial was set for June 23.

SONS OF REVOLUTION
DELEGATES SELECTED
MANY CALIFORNIANS GOING TO BOSTON CONVENTION
IN JUNE
California will be well represented at the triennial convention of the National Society, Sons of the Revolution, in Boston, on June 18 and 19 next, according to present plans.

Selection of accredited delegates to the convention from California has been completed. They are John Barnes Miller, George E. Pomeroy, James Mortimer Montgomery and Willie Milner Dixon. Dr. George
Lincoln Huntington, Frank Jones
Wilder, Charles Henry Cutting and Dr. Albert Marine Weston have been selected as alternates. In addition it is expected that a large number of the California society members will attend the sessions.

Mr. Montgomery is president of the national society and will lead the California delegation. He has served as president of the society for the past fifteen years, but will retire this year. It is the intention of the California delegation to nominate Frank Harvey Pettigill to the office of second general vice-president of the general body, and to re-elect Orin Eugene Monnette general historian of the national body.

Sessions will be conducted in the historic Faneuil Hall, which has served as the headquarters for all patriotic organizations in Boston for many years.

EASTERN STAR BALL Westlake Chapter, No. 268, Order of the Eastern Star, will give its annual ball and card party next Friday evening at the Goldbergs Boyle assembly room, Sixteenth and Flower streets. Music will be furnished by Redman's Orchestra.
The grand march will start at 9 p.m. All members of the order and their friends are invited.

PRAISE IS SUNG FOR MUSSOLINI

University Students Hear Donna Borghese

Girl Speaker Describes Rise of Italy's Premier

Declares Fascisti Will Prove Nation's Salvation

"Only the Fascist government will last long enough, Italy may see more convey a message to mankind," yesterday declared the slender bob-haired Donna Santa Borghese in addressing the students of the University of Southern California at the morning session. The origin and growth of the Fascist party and the power of Mussolini were only a part of the many things which she discussed in her brief talk on "The Present Situation in Italy."

Donna Borghese in the most finished, painstaking English, with her halting accent sketched the many problems and events which have held the life and attention of the Italian nation from the beginning of the war to the present day. She told of Premier Mussolini, the socialist, who until May, 1918, was radical in all his thoughts and beliefs, but who abruptly changed when war came that he might fight for Italy.

ITALIAN ARMY MORALE
"It was when our moral defeat came during the war," explained Donna Borghese, "that Mussolini rallied the morale of the army and organized groups which were the beginning of the Fascist party of today. We are very near in Italy to the Bolshevik countries, and they sent this propaganda down to us. This brought about the formation of the Communist party with its aftermath of strikes and disorganization. Italy had to react against this way, and it was then that Mussolini rose to the foreground and the Fascist party was formed."

"Although Mussolini was asked to be Prime Minister in October, 1922, it wasn't until November 4, our Armistice Day, that all opposition ceased. On that day all resistance was dissolved before the altar of the unknown soldier, and the Communists dispersed and went to their homes. The motto of Mussolini is this, 'We will live for economy, work and discipline.' That is the keynote of the whole movement."

DEMAND RESULTS
"Our people have gone through so much that they are ready for a program which is not just promise. For the first time in Italy there is a big conscious movement, and our people realize that it is only through this movement that they can reconstruct the whole Italian government."

"It isn't often a nation is able to send a ship of a girl to another country, a girl who is primarily a girl, even if there are dozens of degrees tacked to her royal name. The Donna Santa Borghese before speaking yesterday was merely an attractive girl, slumping slightly in her seat at the platform, and intensely interested in the students. But when she rose to speak she was to those who heard her the spirit of the Italian nation from across the sea."

OSTEOPATHS GIVEN WARD AT HOSPITAL

Final Arrangements for Selecting Staff Already Completed

Final arrangements have been made for the organization of a staff of osteopathic physicians at the County Hospital. It was announced yesterday by Supervisor J. H. Bean. A separate unit of 140 beds is to be established at the County Hospital in which the osteopaths are to have full sway.

Dr. D. L. Tucker, Harry W. Forbes and Norman P. Sprague have been named by the Osteopathic Association of Los Angeles County and appointed by the Board of Supervisors to act as an examining board to provide an eligible list of osteopathic physicians from which the superintendent of the County Hospital, Norman H. Martin, may choose the members of the osteopathic staff. The inclusion of osteopathic physicians on the staff of the County Hospital is in accord with the majority given the osteopaths in the general election last November. A number of conferences have been held at the behest of the Board of Supervisors to arrange for the admission of the osteopaths to the County Hospital.

Woman's Arm Badly Injured in Auto Crash

Mrs. Alice Koch, 45 years of age, of 1832 North Bonnie Brae street, was struck by an automobile yesterday, while attempting to board a car at Glendale Boulevard and Echo Park avenue, and her right arm was torn nearly off. She suffered severe bruises and shock. The automobile, according to police records, was driven by E. N. Poag of Tulunga. Mrs. Koch was treated at the Receiving Hospital. E. Leach of Lankershim was arrested for alleged reckless driving yesterday after his car struck Robert Swinerton, 8 years of age, of 963 Lucile avenue. The boy was taken to the Receiving Hospital, where it was said he had received internal injuries and shock. The crash occurred at Golden Gate avenue and Sunset Boulevard.

DIVORCE WON IN HURRY
John Gallaway was granted a divorce decree in three minutes yesterday from Mrs. Nanette Gallaway. Judge Elliot Craig of Superior Court heard the case. She wrote letters to another man, Gallaway asserted, is one of which she conveyed "love, kisses and caresses."

RACE FALL SEEN IN NARCOTIC USE

Capt. R. P. Hobson Warns of Growing Evil

Advertising Club Told Drive of Education Vital

Richardson Praised for Work Done in State

Predicting the degeneration of the human race to the point of sterility unless the drug evil is checked, Capt. Richmond P. Hobson, president of the Narcotic Education Association, in an address yesterday at the Alexandria before members of the Los Angeles Advertising Club said that today there are 1,000,000 more drug addicts in America than there were slaves in 1860.

"As time goes on, new methods of producing deadly drugs are constantly being discovered, and the human race faces an era in which the obtaining of narcotics will be a comparatively easy matter," said Mr. Hobson.

"The drug addict is seldom if ever cured. On the contrary, the amount of drugs which he takes is necessary to his well being constantly increasing. Furthermore, the addict is usually responsible for introducing the habit into the lives of at least several others, which means a tremendous increase in crimes of all kinds."

EDUCATION DRIVE URGED
While announcing that he seeks no quarrel with existing or proposed preventive and punitive laws, Mr. Hobson said the only adequate method of dealing with the narcotic evil is in an educational campaign that will acquaint the growing youth with horrors accompanying the use of drugs.

Heartily commending Gov. Richardson, Mayor Cryer, the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and other officials and organizations for their support of narcotic education work in Los Angeles, Mr. Hobson said that before a year has elapsed he hopes to find a working city in America conducting similar education week campaigns.

"The policy of the Narcotic Education Association is one to take part in politics or policies, but to obtain and distribute scientific information concerning drugs and their use, and to work for the introduction of such information into the school text-books," said Mr. Hobson.

Fred R. Miller, manager of the better business bureau of the Advertising Club, said the bureau favors the proposed ordinance, before the City Council prohibiting parking in the congested district of automobiles having a seating capacity of more than seven persons.

The proposed ordinance, said Mr. Miller, is aimed at real estate and oil property agents who make a practice of inducing visitors to take free rides and visit properties with a view to selling blocks or real estate. The club also went on record as favoring the proposed ordinance.

The Pasadena delegation of the club yesterday invited local members to a barbecue and athletic program on June 19, at Brookside Park, beginning at 11 a.m.

Among features of the luncheon program yesterday were ukulele and vocal numbers by Marion Coutts, Italian dialect stories by Kay M. Grier and the reading of "Our Constitution, Citadel of Freedom," by the author, Arthur H. Stryver.

LONG-ARMED COINCIDENCE GRABS GIRL
Victim of Robbery Meets Former Maid on Street; Causes Her Arrest

One of those coincidences which liberally beset our best citizens occurred yesterday at Fourth and Broadway and as a result Miss Grace Jackson is lodged in the City Jail today on a grand larceny charge.

Some five months ago Miss Jackson, police say, was employed in the San Francisco home of Miss Gertrude Robinson and her mother as a housemaid. One evening she disappeared and with her disappeared two valuable fur coats and some cash, it is asserted.

A month or so later Miss Robinson and her mother moved from San Francisco to Sunland. Yesterday afternoon Miss Robinson decided to come to Los Angeles to do some shopping. It was the first time she had visited the city in months.

At Fourth street and Broadway she saw a familiar figure. Unable to recall just where she had seen the woman, Miss Robinson increased her pace and overtook her. But Miss Robinson did not accost the woman. Instead she turned to Traffic Officer Eubank and caused her arrest.

SHASTA ROUTE AGAIN OPENED TO TRAFFIC

The who-ly track around Tunnel 1, between Kennel and Coran, which burned out last week, blocking the main line of the Southern Pacific between Portland and San Francisco, was completed for traffic early yesterday, according to J. H. Dyer, general manager of the company.

Embargoes on freight to territory reached via the Shasta route have been lifted. The company will make every effort to rush through freight that has been delayed by the blocking of the line. Transfer of passengers around the tunnel was made by automobiles while the line was blocked, without mishap or discomfort.

DOTY ESTATE GOES TO WIDOW
The will of the late Frank H. Doty, former head of the Los Angeles County Civil Service Commission, who died on the 11th inst., was filed for probate yesterday. The estate, valued at $7600, is left to the widow, Mrs. Josephine H. Doty.

Memorial Day

SINCE the beginning of time, an endless column of warriors has marched bravely into "That land from whence no traveler returns."

We pause again to honor the memory of our soldiers, not because they fought and died fighting, but because they fought that certain high principles might live.

This is their splendid distinction. We can give them no honor not already theirs. It is rather that we may be consecrated anew in those principles for which they gave so much that we observe this day.

Chicken Tamale Pie

This savory and unusual meat pie—something any woman can easily make—was awarded first prize for the best Spanish recipe submitted in THE TIMES recent cookery contest. There are 156 of these popular Spanish and Mexican dishes in the TIMES Prize Cook Book, occupying a complete chapter by themselves. These Spanish recipes, many of which were contributed by descendants of the oldest Southern California families, are well worth the price of the whole volume. Yet there are over 2000 other recipes, including everything from salads to desserts.

The sustained daily demand for THE TIMES Prize Cook Book can be accounted for solely on the sheer merit of the book itself. No housekeeper can afford to be without it. It multiplies many fold the resources of the kitchen and enables any average cook to keep her table supplied with a constant succession of good things.

Price over the counter at the TIMES Main or branch offices 75c, or mailed postpaid anywhere in California on receipt of price. (Use blank below.) Price outside the State, 85c.

Advising the Business Girl

Perhaps the business girl already knows the advice that has been offered to her so generously by the business world about fifty years ago. Certainly they have not accepted it, for dressing quietly and modestly, going to work in a white dress and a hat, and carrying a small bag, and saving inferior jewelry and sumptuous meals, and so on.

But all the same they do seem never to have learned the lesson that the business girl should draw from the advice that has been offered to her so generously by the business world about fifty years ago. Certainly they have not accepted it, for dressing quietly and modestly, going to work in a white dress and a hat, and carrying a small bag, and saving inferior jewelry and sumptuous meals, and so on.

I don't believe I know a silly, incompetent business girl who does not know scores of the other kind. Some of them are stylish, bobbed-haired, rouged, fluffed, and they think that they are doing well. They don't, on the surface, appear to have a thought in their heads but a good time.

But beneath all that fluff, frisky exterior they seem to have remarkably shrewd and efficient brains. They know just what they are doing, and they are doing it well. They are not only successful in business, but they are also successful in life.

There is one business girl's club in this town whose occasional banquets are an eye-opener. There they attend in their hundreds, all dressed in the latest fashion, and they are not only successful in business, but they are also successful in life.

Chicken Tamale Pie

This savory and unusual meat pie—something any woman can easily make—was awarded first prize for the best Spanish recipe submitted in THE TIMES recent cookery contest. There are 156 of these popular Spanish and Mexican dishes in the TIMES Prize Cook Book, occupying a complete chapter by themselves. These Spanish recipes, many of which were contributed by descendants of the oldest Southern California families, are well worth the price of the whole volume. Yet there are over 2000 other recipes, including everything from salads to desserts.

The sustained daily demand for THE TIMES Prize Cook Book can be accounted for solely on the sheer merit of the book itself. No housekeeper can afford to be without it. It multiplies many fold the resources of the kitchen and enables any average cook to keep her table supplied with a constant succession of good things.

Price over the counter at the TIMES Main or branch offices 75c, or mailed postpaid anywhere in California on receipt of price. (Use blank below.) Price outside the State, 85c.

NO ROOM HERE FOR AGITATORS

Russian Baroness Tells of Soviet Failure
Would Send Soap-Boxers Back to Europe

Bolshevism Has Made Land of Mob Rule

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
PASADENA, May 29.—Bolshevism was scored heavily in an address given this noon by Baroness Ottilie de Ropp, noted Russian author, at a luncheon of the local Optimists' Club at the Hotel Maryland. The Baroness has arrived recently from Russia, following confinement of her property by the Soviet government.

"When I heard that soap-box agitators at Long Beach, San Pedro, Los Angeles and other cities telling you Americans how to run your country and making the same statement when they have made such a fiasco of things in Russia, I wish I could stick a special-delivery stamp on their backs and send them across the sea where they belong," she said. "Bolshevism was proved a complete failure in Russia; mob rule prevails. I see no hope for my country until a republic or limited monarchy is established."

There is no standard of exchange in Russia, she said, the Bolsheviks having returned to primitive methods of barter. Railroads of the country have been virtually destroyed, including 32,000 bridges, according to the Baroness.

"And of the 20,000 locomotives, most of them are very sick," she added. "Transportation in Russia is almost a thing of the past. The remote sections of the country are completely isolated."

The Baroness called attention to the shameful atrocities perpetrated by the Bolsheviks against the church. She said that children are taught to pray to the Soviet for bread.

Baroness Ottilie de Ropp is living at present at 525 South Broadway, Glendale. She is planning an extensive lecture tour of the country.

Prices of Fish for 1923 Crop Hit Low Mark

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
SAN DIEGO, May 29.—Prices for the 1923 crop of tuna, albacore and other commercial fish, announced here today, show a marked reduction from former prices, and particularly the prices that prevailed during the war.

James L. Rouchleau, president of the San Diego Fishermen's Protective Association, today gave out the new scale, drafted at a conference last night. The prices were: albacore, $1.75 per ton; skipjack, $7.50; yellowfin tuna, $10.00; bluefin tuna, $20.00.

Prices of albacore last year ranged from $135 to $255 a ton, and yellowfin tuna, $80 to $210 a ton. Scarcity of the fish of the sea last year was responsible for the top price of $255 paid by packers toward the close of the season.

Rouchleau said the fishermen accepted the prices set by the cannermen, but that it was generally agreed that the prices were fair all around.

The greatest fleet of fishing craft that has ever operated out of San Diego and Los Angeles harbors will work on the fishing grounds this year. About 600 boats, it is said, already have completed preparations for the opening of the tuna season, tentatively set for June 15.

Riverside Club Members Hear Boys Discussed

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
RIVERSIDE, May 29.—Members of the Riverside Present Day Club last night celebrated ladies' night, the first meeting of the organization in twenty-two years, by a visit to "Boysville," conducted by Dr. I. Frank Roach of Long Beach. He spoke for an hour of the life of a boy of the underclass, telling the story of his life as a bootblack, a news boy and a jockey. He appealed for an adult understanding of the shock, terror and confusion of a youngster who is the bane of his mother's life, the disgrace of the school and generally despised because he is not understood. He also pleaded for the boy in the rich home, who is not allowed the opportunity to mingle in the true democracy of "Boysville."

"Let's go back to this town," said Dr. Roach. "It's a place of fun, not tied up by the restriction of the world of luxury."

FORMER WORKERS OF UTAH FIRM TO PICNIC

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE)
LONG BEACH, May 29.—Southern Californians formerly employed by the Utah Copper Company at Gardfield, Utah, near Salt Lake City, will assemble in first annual picnic reunion at 2 p.m. Memorial Day, at Bixby Park, Long Beach.

It is estimated that there are now resident in Los Angeles county nearly 100 men formerly of the staff and force of Utah Copper at Gardfield. With the post-war slump in copper, scores of families left Utah for whiter spots in industrial activities and found berths in various walks of life in Southern California.

Arrangements for the Memorial Day reunion are being directed by Dwight Meier, 135 West First street, Long Beach, formerly of the office staff of Utah Copper.

MAN SILENT ON SHOOTING TO SAVE SON

Aged Rancher, Fatally Hurt, Refuses to Reveal Details of Attack

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
SAN BERNARDINO, May 29.—"I can't remember," was the only comment police could obtain today from Arthur Edward Cole, pioneer rancher of the Mission district, 41 years of age, who was shot under mysterious circumstances last night on his ranch by Arthur Edward Cole, Jr., his son.

The aged man is in a hospital here, weak from loss of blood, and physicians report that he may die. They state that his mind is clear and that he is keeping silent to protect his son.

The son, together with Mrs. Catherine Polkmar of 231 East Eighty-first street, Los Angeles, is being held in the County Jail here. The story of an accidental shooting which he has told discredited by police.

Mrs. Polkmar came from Los Angeles Saturday last to visit Mrs. Lillian Harris, who has been Cole's housekeeper for a year past. According to the son's story, he and his father had been drinking with the two women.

He said that Mrs. Polkmar decided to leave the ranch house and started out of the door. His father, he asserted, seized a shotgun and followed her. Then the son declared he interfered and attempted to take the gun from his father. He avers that in the struggle the gun was accidentally discharged. Mr. Cole was shot in the shoulder.

Police investigating the case report that there are no powder marks on the aged man's clothing, which they declare makes the son's story appear unlikely.

Ground Broken for Race Track of Jockey Club

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
CULVER CITY, May 29.—Ground was broken this morning for the proposed race track of the Southern California Jockey Club which will revive horse racing in the State without the betting ring.

Corps of surveyors have been placed on the site and the staking out of the mile race course was started. Locations for grandstands, paddocks, clubhouses, stables and other buildings were also determined.

The Jockey Club, formed in the interest of betless horse racing by the merger of a group of sports-loving Los Angeles financiers, expects to open the track for a 100-day racing season on December 1. The club has secured a twenty-year franchise from the Board of Trustees, a charter from Secretary of State Jordan and a lease with an option to buy 140 acres of valuable Culver City land.

GANG LOOTS BEACH CITY SCHOOL SAFE

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE)
REDONDO BEACH, May 29.—The safe of the Redondo Beach High School was looted last night and $60 in cash taken. The combination dial on the safe, which was by the name of the thief, had been jimmied off, the police stated after investigation.

No fingerprints were left. The officers stated the work was probably that of a gang which is said to have been robbing schoolhouses throughout this section of the county.

FAMOUS ESTATE IS SOLD UNDER HAMMER

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
REDLANDS, May 29.—The Sterling estate, one of the finest in Southern California, at the foot of Smiley Heights, was sold at public auction this afternoon to R. N. Randall of Los Angeles for $81,000. The property will be used as a sanatorium, it is said. The furniture is to be sold later.

The property consists of an eighteen-room house in the Italian villa style, with modern appointments. There are sunken gardens and Italian sarcophagi. There are twenty-six acres of orange trees.

CITY OFFICIAL RESIGNS

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
LONG BEACH, May 29.—A. L. Ferver, for the past two years director of public service for the city of Long Beach, today tendered his resignation to the City Council. It was accepted. Mr. Ferver will be associated with James F. Collins, development engineer of Long Beach. Mr. Ferver was appointed director of public service two years ago by former City Manager Charles E. Hewes. Prior to working for the city Mr. Ferver had been associated with a shipbuilding concern at Los Angeles Harbor.

READY FOR MESS AT KIDDIES' KAMP

Where Tulare County Entertains Its Little Guests

In Pumpkin Hollow

PORTERVILLE, May 29.—"Keep up Tulare county's K.K.K." is the battle cry of the Tulare County Tuberculosis Association in its annual campaign for funds to carry on the Kaweah Kiddie Kamp, above Hammond in "Punkin Hollow," where each summer during July and August this fourteen-acre tract swarms with undernourished children of Tulare county in a fight against the great white plague.

There, in the open air, helpful and enjoyable exercise is given under experienced supervision in the form of play, swimming, setting-up drills, etc. Camp life becomes a pleasure, each child has his duties. Mysteries of woodcraft, bon fires, lures of the stars and camp-stories, with long sleep beneath the skies and plenty of wholesome food, help to bring these frail bits of childhood back to the path of health.

Children are selected through recommendation of school nurses from the various centers. Physical training instructors, trained workers of the school room, Red Cross nurses, social service helpers, physicians, Boy Scouts, Girl Reserves and citizens at large by donations of money, time, clothing, various necessities, toys and books have helped in the success of the institution.

This season plans are being made for seventy-five children at a time, instead of fifty as in the past, while fully 150 or 200 are expected to be given pleasant outings and a good start to normalcy.

CITRUS SHOW AT ANAHEIM BIG SUCCESS

Plans Being Made for Exposition on Larger Scale Next Year

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
ANAHEIM, May 29.—Tomorrow night will witness the closing of the third annual California Valencia Orange Show, the most successful citrus exposition ever staged in California. Record attendance at each of the nine days of the 1933 fruit fair is anticipated and it is predicted by Manager Malcolm Fraser that when a final check up is made of the gate receipts the financial backers of the exposition will learn that for the first time since the citrus business was put into effect at the beginning of the new school year in September.

Under this plan the minimum is $1800 and the maximum $2400 per annum respectively. This decision smooths over a situation which had become critical when several of the most efficient of the local teachers threatened to accept outside offers unless the local Board of Education saw fit to adopt a standard system whereby the minimum wage in each department would be raised to $100 a month.

The young man, still unconscious of the accident, was rushed to the hospital several days ago. The accident occurred when the son attempted to drive a truck loaded with oranges across the path of the approaching train. The engine struck the rear of the truck, through the father beneath the train with his legs lying across the tracks. The train was stopped just as the wheels reached his body. Witnesses, who declared the wigwag of the crossing was operating when the accident occurred, helped to remove the young man from the demolished car.

Woman Joyous When Freed of Liquor Charge

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
RIVERSIDE, May 29.—"The Lord does answer prayers," said Mrs. L. C. Butler, tearfully expressing her gratitude to the justice of the peace today before preliminary trial today before Justice of the Peace H. C. Hibbard on the charge of manufacturing bootleg liquor.

If any one ever danced for joy then that one was Mrs. Butler. Her exultation was such that she threw her arms around the judge, profusely and all but kissed him. The Attorney's blushing modesty compelled him to restrain her enthusiasm.

ROTARIANS TO GIVE PRIZE TO PARADERS

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE)
BURBANK, May 29.—Burbank Rotarians will present two silk flags to the grammar school which marches in best parade tomorrow morning. City Engineer F. C. Curt Miller, Superintendent of Grammar Schools L. F. Collins, Dr. Butterfield and Dale Elcher the Rotarian educational committee, were chosen as judges, at the Rotary luncheon at noon today at the Sunset Canyon Country Club. The club established a record for the month of May by having 500 per cent in attendance, since there are five Tuesdays and every Tuesday the members registered 100 per cent.

HANFORD TRUSTEES ORDER NEW PAVING

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
HANFORD, May 29.—Nine blocks of pavement were ordered to be added to the already large paved area of this city by action of the City Trustees last night. This makes thirty-five blocks, or more than two and one-half miles of pavement to have been ordered within the past four months.

As petitions for new paving continue to come in at nearly every meeting of the Trustees, there probably will be twenty blocks more. Most of the paving will be done in the residence section.

OXNARD PRINCIPAL ILL

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
OXNARD, May 29.—W. D. Bannister, principal of the Oxnard Union High School, was operated on yesterday for appendicitis at the Santa Ana Hospital, Los Angeles, by Dr. E. C. Moore. Information was received to the effect that the operation was entirely successful and a complete recovery is expected to follow the operation and Mr. Bannister is to be home in about two weeks.

DESERT MURDER STILL UNSOLVED

Coroner's Jury Brings in Death Case Verdict

Seattle Mine Broker Shot on Randsburg Road

Scenes of Tragedy Enacted by Others in Party

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
BAKERSFIELD, May 29.—"Death resulting from hemorrhage, shock and infection, caused by a gunshot wound at the hands of a party or parties unknown," was the verdict given this morning by a Coroner's jury at Randsburg, investigating the death of promoter N. C. House, however, who was shot on the 20th inst. on the road between Randsburg and Mojave.

The big feature of the day's investigation developed when the automatic which Robert Gentili, one of the party at Randsburg, admitted having had at the time of the shooting, was found and returned to the owner by a party who had been between Randsburg and Mojave.

Mystery is deeper. Several days ago the officials laid great stress on the missing weapon. New the officials are much at sea as to the whereabouts of the gun. It had never been found. There is no indication that any shot had been fired. All the chambers were loaded and none of the shells were missing. The weapon is still in the possession of Robert Gentili, who was recently discharged from the County Jail.

With Coroner N. C. House, Dep. Dist. Atty. West and Under Sheriff Charles Smith directing, the episode in the grim tragedy of the desert was reenacted. Robert Gentili enacted as nearly as they could recall the parts they played on the edge of the desert.

While this grim tragedy of the sands was being re-enacted, with two of the principals in the real tragedy assuming the principal parts, the jury looked on, the Coroner took notes, Dep. Dist. Atty. West focused his mind on each of the incidents and filed them all for future use. Under Sheriff Smith watched the actions of each of the principals in the re-enactment.

WORKING ON THEORY

The officials are nearing a clue in the belief that prevailed though none cared to express himself on the theory being worked out.

Raymond, the man lying at the side of the road, who was arrested on suspicion of having knowledge of the shooting, is still being detained, and the belief grows that the authorities feel that he knows more than he has been willing to say. In the meantime, Sheriff Walser and the office of Dist. Atty. Schmidt are bending every effort to secure something tangible which may drive a rift of light into the cloud of mystery that still hovers over shooting of the millionaire florist and mining speculator.

PLAN FLAG-RAISING

Memorial Day to be Celebrated at Huntington Park

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE)
HUNTINGTON PARK, May 29.—Memorial Day services will be observed here tomorrow morning by a flag-raising over the city water plant.

The members of Fort Sumpter Circle No. 10, Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic, some time ago, learned that City Water Superintendent Jack Mohr had raised a flag pole at the plant. They decided to purchase a flag to float over the building and so informed Mr. Mohr.

The flag is to be presented at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning by Mrs. Collier, of the circle, in the presence of a large number of members of the circle, veterans and citizens.

Following the presentation talk, Mayor W. T. Salvin will raise the flag and make a short speech. Hergart Manus, department chaplain of the Grand Army, will be present from Watts and will deliver a short address. There will be other speakers for this occasion among them being Secretary F. E. Almon of the Huntington Park Chamber of Commerce.

SPANISH TEACHERS CHANGE PICNIC DATE

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE)
CLAREMONT, May 29.—The Los Angeles Chapter of the American Association of Spanish Teachers will have its annual picnic in Claremont on Saturday, June 2, instead of June 9, as originally announced. The officers of this association are Miss Laura E. Merriman of the Franklin High School, Los Angeles, president, and Miss Margaret Roaf of the Lincoln High School, Los Angeles, secretary. New officers will be installed at this meeting, which will be an informal affair.

CAMPAIN NEARS GOAL

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
REDLANDS, May 29.—The drive for a war memorial is nearing success with only $4000 to be subscribed. The war memorial is primarily for the Legion, but it is also to include the G.A.R. and the Spanish War Veterans. The property to be purchased is that of the University Club. It is worth about $30,000.

Transfusion of Blood Fails to Save Dayton S. Hamer, German Gas Victim

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
LONG BEACH, May 29.—Despite transfusion of blood from a fellow-worker Dayton S. Hamer, copyeditor of the Long Beach Press, died today at Long Beach Hospital. Yesterday volunteers were asked among the employees of the newspaper and the entire staff from the newest cub to the "old man" offered to make the sacrifice. Mr. W. M. Mird, foreign advertising manager, was selected and underwent an operation in which 600 cubic centimeters of blood were transfused into the victim.

Although Hamer rallied slightly he took a turn for the worse and died shortly after noon. Hamer was a victim of mustard gas in the army during the war and was in the first troops that marched into Germany after the armistice. Serving in major offensives at the Marne and Chateau Thierry, he was gassed three times and carried the effects of his war experience to his death.

Valuable Old Violin Stolen from Ontario

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
ONTARIO, May 29.—A rare old violin recently brought from New Zealand and valued at nearly $1000 formed the principal loot of burglars who during the absence of members of the family, entered the garage at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. East, 1241 East 12th street, according to his report to the Ontario police yesterday.

Bags containing men's, women's and children's clothing were stolen, all of the loot being the property of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Judge, who recently arrived from New Zealand and who are now in the custody of the police.

The police have been furnished with a good description of the articles and hope to recover them.

Justice Jones Weds Jones to Another Jones

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
BAKERSFIELD, May 29.—It was "the day of the Jones" today in Bakersfield when at an informal reunion of the Joneses held in the court room of Justice of the Peace Edward V. Jones, David O. Jones was married to Elsie Jones by Justice of the Peace Jones.

The Joneses hail from Delano. The bridegroom's father was Joseph Jones from Nebraska. The best man at the wedding was D. O. Jones, a brother of the bridegroom, while the bridesmaid was Mrs. Emma M. Jones, who was Miss Emma M. Jones before her marriage. She is the daughter of David Jones and sister of Justice of the Peace Edward V. Jones.

Justice of the Peace Jones performed the ceremony in the court room over which he presides, and which is becoming famous as a Gretchen Green not only for Joneses but also for all the young folks who contemplate a happy marriage.

LONE BANDIT HOLDS UP PASADENA STREET CAR

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
PASADENA, May 29.—A lone bandit this morning held up and robbed H. M. Steele, operator of a one-man Pacific Electric car on the North Lake avenue line. The robber took $10 in cash and a gold watch.

Steele's car was empty at the time. The bandit signalled the car at Mendocino Drive, and after he had boarded it, turned a gun on Steele and ordered him to hand over his cash. Steele was armed and managed to fire one shot. But he missed his mark, the robber disarmed him and jumped from the car.

MAN'S BODY FOUND IN SEA AT LONG WHARF

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
SAWTELLE, May 29.—Police here are seeking to discover the identity of a well-dressed man whose body was found on the beach a mile south of Long Wharf this morning. The man is believed to have taken his own life. All laundry marks on his clothing were removed from his clothing.

The man was dressed in a tailored gray suit, wore a brown silk coat and a pair of knit tie. His coat and hat were missing. A cleaner's mark on the trousers is the only clue. Officer H. C. O'Hewell is investigating.

California Prep Tracksters Win at Chicago

FINE STANDARD IS ESTABLISHED

All but One California Man Get in Scoring

Accident Prevents Stevens From Placing

Six First Places Are Taken by State's Squad

BY ROBERT E. RAY
California's group of prep athletes, which performed so wonderfully at the national interscholastic track and field championships at Stagg Field, Chicago, last Saturday, more than "came through," and incidentally set a standard that coming squads of California athletes sent to Chicago will have a hard time living up to. For out of the twenty-nine prep sent to compete against the nation's best at Chicago, every one but one scored or helped to score points and only an accident which might have happened to the runner, prevented that one, Stevens of Santa Barbara, from also getting into the scoring.

Stevens, who took second in the mile run at the state meet here, threw a shoe early in the race, which practically put him out of the running. However, Stevens would not quit and ran two more laps and did not give up the struggle until his coach ordered him to drop out. It was tough luck on Stevens' part and no fault of his that California's athletes did not make a perfect record.

SIX FIRSTS
Six first places, five seconds, five thirds, six fourths and seven fifths, for a total of 84 points were an-nexed by the athletes from this State. A truly remarkable record made by a truly remarkable bunch of track athletes.

Harry Smith of San Diego, holder of the national interscholastic pole-vault record, and Lee Barnes of Hollywood proved conclusively that they are the two best prep bamboo artists cavitating on the face of the globe. Smith attempted to beat his record at Chicago when he tried for thirteen feet. The San Diego wonder cleared the bar at this dizzy altitude but after he had cleared it on his way down, Smith's hand hit the stick and caused it to wobble off the pegs.

Morton Kaer, the Red Bluff iron-man, was high-point man of the California delegation. This sterling athlete from the Sacramento Valley, although he did not win a first place, captured eleven points and single-handed put his team in a tie for seventh place. Kaer was entered in four events and practically won himself out running heats. However, he placed second in the low hurdles and broad jump, took fourth in the high hurdles and fifth in the javelin.

Earl Lockhart, Henry Cogges-hall and Bill Pollack, the "three musketeers" from Sacramento, an-nexed fourteen points and tied for second place with Cedra Rapids at Lockhart and Coggeshall won the 880 and the high jump, while Pollock took second place in the fastest quarter of a mile race.

Ross Nichols of Huntington Beach won the high hurdles, but the strain of running so many fast heats in the high-stick event prevented him from placing in the high jump and pole vault. Virgil Elliot, Nichols' teammate, was perhaps the biggest surprise of the entire Golden State group. Elliot jumped as he never had before and won third place in the broad jump. Milt Nash took a third in the quarter and Charlie Sickmore snagged two more points for "Foothill" Walker's crew in the high jump and pole vault.

Erle Krenz of Stockton outheaved all the discus throwers, winning the platter-tossing event with a magnificent throw of 133 feet, 3 inches. Cecil White and Jimmy Spencer, the Modesto pair, also performed in perfect fashion.
Spencer won the low hurdles, while White took second in the shot put, being beaten by Kuck, the Wilson (Kan.) behemoth.

Coyne, the Hollywood weightman, snared five digits. He took a fourth in the shot put and a third in the hammer throw. The latter event was entirely new to him, which made his performance all the more startling.

The California prep invasion was in all respects a success and it will probably be made an annual event by the California Interscholastic Federation in the years to come.

M'GRAW NOT YET SURE

Muggsy Says Many Things Could Happen to Giants Before Season Ends; Praises Mack

BY JOHN J. MCGRAW
Manager of the New York Giants
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

NEW YORK, May 29.—Just as we had finished the last game with St. Louis—had cleaned up our home stand against the western invaders, as the baseball writers call it—an old friend came rushing into the clubhouse, all steamed up. "Well, it's all over," he said. "Now you know where you stand. What's the answer? The West hasn't—"
"What do you mean—all over?" I interrupted, smiling at his enthusiasm. "We stand at the top, if that's what you mean—what are you trying to figure out of it?"

"Why, why those western clubs—
—they're mighty strong. You won't get much help from the eastern clubs this time. It's plain—"

"Nothing's plain this time of year," I told him. The western National League clubs made a good showing in the East and the eastern American League clubs made a good showing in the West. The only thing it really means is that we've had a chance to see each club. This fight between the western and eastern clubs doesn't mean a bit more to the race than if the eastern clubs were fighting each other."

"But you know," he hastened to say, "what clubs will be able to help you, don't you?"

And right here is, perhaps, a good time to correct one of the oldest fallacies in baseball—a fallacy that runs through the minor leagues just the same as the majors. This thing of depending upon certain clubs to help you lick the other fellow is all foolishness.
Manage to beat him yourself and you needn't worry about what others do."

"Oh, you'll get no help from the East this season"—how often do you hear some one pull that?

Whether the other clubs in a race are weak or strong makes no difference to a contender as long as they don't actually beat him.
Fans always overlook the fact that the schedule works around in a perfect circle and balances itself.

For instance some will say if the Braves were to win they will hurt the Giants because they won't be able to beat any of the other contenders. Suppose they don't.
They'll be just as weak against us when we play them. Every club must play the same number of times. Boston was strong enough, for example, to lick the other contenders they would also

JEFFERSON DEFEATS MANUAL ARTS QUAD

Jefferson defeated Manual Arts, 5 to 3, in a practice game played yesterday afternoon on the Teller diamond. "Jumbo" Greenfield, Jeff southpaw twirler, held the Manual sluggers to four hits. Wilburn and Wilburn featured at the bat, Jeff won by scoring three runs in the sixth.

CHICAGO FIGHT ENDS IN RIOT

the center of the ring. Leonard ripped over a right to the chin flooring Mitchell. Mitchell attempted to get up and draw a leg under his rear end, a right knee; Leonard attempted to punch him, but Referee Miller waved him away and counted the challenger out in the center of the ring.

Just before the Leonard-Mitchell bout, James C. Mullen, promoter of tonight's program, was arrested by Capt. Russell of the Stockyards Precinct Station on the charge of violating the antirape fight law. Mullen had been standing in the ring. He was not taken to a police station.

Mullen's bonds of $5000 were signed by an alderman and approved by Judge Baras, a former candidate for mayor, in the ring.

The arrest was made to test the State law prohibiting boxing. Joe Burman of Chicago knocked out Patsy Flannigan of St. Louis in the third round of a scheduled ten-round bout. Flannigan was floored with a left and right to the chin, staggered to his feet with a count of five and then went down again without being hit. Referee Benny Yanger waved Flannigan to his corner and awarded the bout to Burman. They weighed in at 125 pounds.

Low Hurley, a New York bantamweight, scored a technical knockout over Harold Smith of Chicago in the fifth round of a scheduled eight-round bout. A right swing to Smith's ear ruptured a blood vessel, causing a steady flow of blood, and the referee stopped the contest. Smith previous to the fifth, had the better of his foe. They boxed at 115 pounds.

Johnny "Peewee" Kaiser, St.
Louis, 125-pounder, outboxed Charles Glaser of Chicago in the second eight-round bout. Kaiser, after being nearly knocked to his knees in the first round, and knock on even terms in the second, warmed up to his task and outscored the Chicagoan.

In the opening bout of eight rounds, Sammy Mandell of Rockford, Ill., had a shade the better of Frankie Garcia of Memphis, Tenn., at 124 pounds.

SEALS HIT HARD AND SWAMP ACORN SQUAD

(BY A. F. NIGHT WIRE)
SAN FRANCISCO, May 29.—San Francisco made six hits off Colwell in the second inning today, scoring five runs, which added to one in the first and three in the fourth, spelled defeat for Oakland, 9 to 3.
Courtney was frequently in trouble and walked four men, but he was clever in the pinches. The game was featured by nine two-baggers, the Seals getting the edge with five. The score:

Into Yosemite in HIGH GEAR

Never, in all the history of Yosemite, had it been done before! They said it couldn't be done.
Yet the power and stamina of the Kissel has proved it possible.

Officially sealed in high gear by Marshall Huffman and Judge Bone of Merced, a standard Kissel 55 Phaeton driven by Carl Borgen of San Francisco, with Charles H. Holdson of Los Angeles as pilot and observer, the week before the Camp Curry Economy Run made the entire climb from Merced via Mormon Bar, Elliott Ranch, Cedar Brook Inn, Miami Lodge, Wawona—to an elevation of 6390 feet at Chinquapien—and on into the Yosemite Valley. In spite of hairpin curves and long, gruelling 10% to 18% grades the Kissel won through.

Arriving in the valley the seal was officially inspected and broken by Superintendent Lewis of the Yosemite National Park. That the Kissel was equipped with standard gearing is attested to by the proprietor of the Gateway Garage of Merced.

Come in and inspect the new Kissel chassis. Ask for a demonstration of Kissel stamina and power.
